POWERFUL FLEET AND BIG ARMIES HOLD NEAR EAST

Hope That Turkey Will

Abandoned

DEFEND OIL FIELDS

Britain's Position in Country Secure Declare Officials of Government

London, Jan. 30.—Foreign office officials today abandoned hope that Turkey will sign the Near East peace Treaty presented by the Allies at Lausanne. Great Britain is adopting a policy of "watchful waiting" prepared either for war or peace.

There is a powerful British fleet at anchor in the Turkish straits and the British are maintaining armies at such strategic points as Constantinople, Mosul and Chanak.

A gigantic British fortress has been erected at Shanak controlling traffic through the Dardanelles.

There is every indication that the British will defend the Mosul oil fields with troops if the Turks carry out their threats to occupy that region.

Foreign office and war office officials said that the British position in the Near East is perfectly secure. The British fleet and the forces in Constantinople with a few hours time could divide the Turkish armies in Anatolia and Thrace, driving them into the interior at their leisure.

BIG REDUCTION IN U. S. BUDGET DEFICIT SHOWN

Harding Announces Cut of
92 Million Dollars; Plans
Economy Drive

Washington, Jan. 30.—The anticipated deficit in the national budget for the current fiscal year, which ends July 1, has been reduced to $92,000,000 from an earlier estimate of $273,000,000. President Harding announced in a message to the fourth regular budget meeting, read by Vice President Coolidge. Reductions in expenditures and increased revenues combined to reduce the deficit, he said.

Congratulating the assembled cabinet officials and bureau chiefs for saving $181,000,000, Mr. Harding's message urged continuance of rigid economy in the hope that the $92,000,000 would be wiped out and the fiscal year ended with a balance on the right side of the ledger.

Estimates for the next fiscal year—ending June 30, 1924—indicate an excess of receipts over expenditures for the first time since this country entered the world war.

General Lord reported that the final estimate of expenditures for the current fiscal year, surveyed Jan. 15, was $3,574,554,132, while the forecast of receipts on the same day was $3,441,504,959. This leaves, he pointed out, a deficit slightly more than $92,000,000, and he expressed the belief that with five months of the fiscal year ahead in which to cut away less than one-fifth of the amount eliminated in the excess of expenditures in the first seven months of the 12 months period, the deficit could be eliminated. He declared, however, in this connection, that "the tireless, unremitting efforts of the president to accomplish the result must have the support of every public servant."

General Lord reviewed the work of the various agencies subordinate to the budget bureau, showing how thousands of dollars were cut from estimates here and there, and millions, in some instances, were lopped off the original figures by those intent on making the nation pay as it goes.

WIFE BALKS AT SALE OF CHILDREN

Mrs. Joseph Assad and children

When Joseph Assad, of Cleveland, Ohio, was fined for being drunk he offered to sell any one of his five children to pay his fine and to clear up the accumulation of $2,000 worth of debts. All he asked was $200. When she heard of her husband's proposal, Mrs. Assad declared she would not part with one of her children "for a million." The family is in poor circumstances, and Assad has been compelled to close his small grocery store, their only means of

GERMAN OFFICIALS ARE DEPORTED BY FRENCH

Rioting Takes Place in Ruhr City But Denial is Made
That Twenty Germans Were Killed in the Disturbance.

Essen, Jan. 30.—Large numbers of German officials today were ordered deported from the Rhineland by the French military authorities. The formal accusation against the Germans was disobedience, but the real reason for their expulsion was their obedience of orders from the Berlin government to give the French no assistance or information.

General DeGoutte issued the expulsion orders from his headquarters in Dusseldorf but it is understood here that the original suggestion came from the French general staff at Paris.

The French are annoyed and angered over the failure of their policy to produce material resources. Practically no coal is being obtained, disorders are growing, destruction of property is increasing and the passive resistance of German civilians becomes a bigger problem every day.

Additional French railway workers are arriving in the Ruhr. It is estimated that there are about 5,000 on the scene now but they are meeting with considerable resistance on the part of German railwaymen who refuse to co-operate with them. The French have not yet attempted to "requisition" German labor.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The French foreign office this afternoon admitted that rioting had taken place in the German Rhineland city of Boppart, but denied a newspaper report that 20 Germans were killed. Foreign office officials said that advice from French headquarters in the Rhineland said there had not been any casualties in the Boppart disorders.

HARDING'S LETTER READ AT MEETING

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Harding, in a letter to Senator Pomerene, read at the annual meeting of the Ohio society of Washington in commemoration of the birth of President McKinley, expressed the regrets of himself and Mrs. Harding at being unable to attend.

"Please be assured," the president's letter said, "that we will be with you in spirit and hope that in every way the meeting will fully reflect the reverent regard in which the memory of President McKinley is held and tend to enhance the appreciation of fellowship among those in Washington who have pride in claiming either nativity or citizenship in the great state of Ohio."

Among the speakers on the program were Chief Justice Taft and Senator Pomerene. A message was dispatched to William R. Day, also of Ohio, former associate justice of the supreme court and at present umpire of the American-German claims commission, who is at Augusta, Ga., recuperating from a bronchial attack, expressing hope in his early recovery.

WOMAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY TRAIN

Middletown, O., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Charles Van Horn, 30, was instantly killed while her husband escaped death by jumping from the Van Horn quick service truck which was struck on the Fourth street Big Four crossing at 7:30 Monday night by South-bound special freight 149, Louis Kaul, of Sharonville, Ohio, engineer.

The woman's head was crushed to pulp when she jumped directly in front of the engine.

FRAUD CHARGES GIVEN AIRING IN OHIO HOUSE

Legislative Committee Is
Probing Pike County
Election Case

Columbus, Jan. 30.—At the hearing of the contest to unseat Representative Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, and install Harry L. Foster, Republican, Wynn's opponent in the November election, schemes resorted to by opposing parties in conducting a political campaign in Pike county were given an airing before the house investigating committee.

After hearing testimony which tended to show the passing of money in obtaining absent votes and the systematic methods employed by at least one party in obtaining these votes, the committee adjourned to meet again Feb. 13, when effort will be made to review all records of the Pike county election board, particularly those relating to handling of applications for absent voters' ballots.

In two instances testimony showed money had been passed in connection with voting absent voters' ballots. Stanley Moss of Chillicothe testified three Waverly men, who came to his home and got him to vote an absent voter's ballot, gave him $5 "for his time," and also gave him $5 to give to his wife. The wife testified having signed some papers and that her husband gave her $5 after the three men had left. One of the men, both Mr. and Mrs. Moss testified, was "Hookie" Dowdle of Waverly. Mrs. Moss said she did not know she was voting when she signed the papers.

Charles P. Gableman, former probate judge of Pike county, and eight years postmaster of Waverly, testified as a member of the Democratic county executive committee he handled women's organizations and absent voters. Gableman said the Republican committee also was getting all the absent votes possible, but admitted that probably the Democrats were the most successful, as they were "better organized" for the purpose.

Is R. W. Boyden to Be
Col. House No. 2?

Roland W. Boyden, Boston lawyer and financier, "the mystery man of two continents," acting as American "observer" on the Inter-Allied Reparations Commission, in Paris, has by his recent actions, caused many politicians in Washington to ask: "Is he Col. House No. 2?"

TERROR GRIPS DUBLIN AFTER MUCH RIOTING

Rifle Fire, Bomb Explosions
and Incendiary Fires
Are Reported

Dublin, Jan. 30.—Dublin emerged today from a wild night of terror, which was marked by blasts of rifle fire, bomb explosions and the lurid glares of incendiary fires against the sky.

Homes of many Free State officials and newspapermen were attacked. The home of State Solicitor Corrigan was blown up. Mrs. Corrigan and her children were ordered out first.

They stood in the street and watched their home go up in flames.

The dwelling of a brother-in-law of William T. Cosgrave, president of the day, was fired.

The home of Sir Horace Plunkett at Fox Rock was blown up. Sir Horace is now in the United States.

MAY CALL OUT TROOPS TO QUELL OUTBREAKS

Clinton, Indiana is Scene of Wild Riots and Officials
Admit Inability to Cope With Lawlessness—
Casualties Are Reported

Clinton, Ind., Jan. 30.—A warning from W. A. Satterlee, prosecuting attorney, that troops were needed today followed the third death in the rioting at Blandford, near here.

Simultaneously, Bert C. Morgan, Indiana federal prohibition enforcement officer, admitted that his staff was powerless to stop bootlegging in the town.

Mell Obravovich is dead. Steve Karanovich is in jail, charged with the killing as the result of another outbreak at a wedding at which illicit liquor is said to have played a prominent part. Two men were killed Sunday in another drunken riot.

The town, dubbed by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson the "worst town in the country" has been deserted by negroes driven out following an attack by a negro on an eleven-year-old white girl. A Grand Jury investigation will be made of the situation, the prosecutor said.

Threats have been reported from Terre Haute that a sortie would be made into Clinton County by a citizens committee bent on cleaning out the town should the authorities fail to break up the "booze ring."

OPEN WARFARE STARTS IN SENATE

Washington, Jan. 30.—What virtually amounted to open warfare broke out afresh in the senate today.

Defiantly accepting the challenge issued by administration chieftains, to call night sessions to speed up action on the army supply bill, farm credits legislation and the ship subsidy, combined progressive and democratic forces announced the unreserved intention "to filibuster until the rural relief measures had been given full and complete discussion at least ten days or two weeks."

RECEIVERS' TERMS ACCEPTED BY U. S.

Detroit, Jan. 30.—The U. S. Government represented by Assistant Attorney General Teller, agreed today to accept $1,550,000 from the receivers of the Lincoln Motor Company, in full claims aggregating $9,188,561.93, said to be due on war contracts, when the matter was taken up before Judge Tuttle in Federal Court here today.

SHAKEUP NEAR IN VETERANS' BUREAU

Washington, Jan. 30.—The resignation of Colonel Charles R. Forbes as director of the Veterans Bureau, expected shortly, will be a signal for a shake up of that department of the government, officials close to President Harding declared today.

OUTCOME OF CABINET MEETING IN DOUBT AS OPPOSITION IS FELT

American Terms Held Too Severe by Bonar Law Element, Although Nation Assured That U. S. Will Not Accept Change

London, Jan. 30.—The British cabinet met today to consider the Anglo-American debt issue and listened to an appeal from Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin that the debt terms of the United States funding commission (providing for a three per cent interest rate) be accepted. Baldwin said that the government could rest assured no better terms could be obtained.

The outcome of the meeting was clouded with uncertainty due to the division of opinion among the ministers. The "die hards" declared that they would not consent to the American terms while Premier Bonar Law, by influential newspapers that the best course is to accept the terms because they are the best Britain can get.

Financiers are urging acceptance on the ground it will assist business. They fear that rejection will depress the value of the British pound. It was officially admitted at 10 Downing street that the differences of opinion in the cabinet were so sharply divided that there was little likelihood of a decision at this time.

It is possible that before a decision is reached, formal query will be sent to Washington to ascertain if the United States will consent to a reopening of debt funding operations if Great Britain accepts the present terms.

These terms call for a 3 per cent interest rate for 10 years with an increase of one half per cent subsequently and a sinking fund to be created by imposing one half of one percent by imposing one percent. The debt is about $4,500,000,000.

Before the cabinet met George Harvey, American ambassador, held a conference with Chancellor Baldwin. It was said that the Ambassador gave Mr. Baldwin assurances that the American terms now in the hands of ASSAULTS WIVES OF OFFICIALS OF U. S.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A letter written by Mrs. Miles Pindexter, wife of the Washington senator, to a Seattle newspaper, in which she sharply assailed wives of the cabinet officers for alleged petty graft at government expense, has caused a storm in official society circles here.

Mrs. Pindexter in an amazingly frank manner complains because: "Wives of cabinet officers go shopping in government limousines; Mrs. Denby can give 'at homes' and have the famous Marine band furnish music; Secretary Denby took his family to the orient last summer; the war department furnishes good-looking officers for functions given by the secretary of war; the botanical gardens furnish flowers for the house of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace."

Mrs. Pindexter says she can not understand why senators vote government automobiles for cabinet officers and then deny them to themselves. Senators, she believes, need them more than secretaries.

INVESTIGATION OF AIR ACCIDENT ON MUSTARD-ORCHID ROMANCE IS OVER

Honolulu, Jan. 30.—An army board today started an investigation of the accident which cost the lives of Lieut. Rupert Julian of the Fourth Squadron, Air Service, and Private Charles Denson, 11th signal corps.

A plane piloted by Julian went into a tail spin late yesterday near Schofield barracks and crashed 800 feet to the ground, Julian was instantly killed and Denson died later in the hospital.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—The "wild mustard-orchid" romance of Mme Margaret Matzenauer, Metropolitan grand opera star, and Floyd Grotzback, Carmel chauffeur melted today when Superior Judge Murasky signed a decree of divorce. The divorce was granted the singer on her crossed complaint. Neither principal was present.

Mme Matzenauer named a Carmel woman. She produced three cancelled checks which she said she had given her husband and which bore the endorsement of the Carmel woman. The decree restores Mme Matzenauer's name.

BUILDING WRECKED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 30.—A leaking gas pipe in a downtown cafeteria exploded early today and wrecked ten business establishments in the building causing an estimated loss of $125,000. Fire broke out after the explosion but was subdued.

AUSTRIAN CHAOS HOLDS NO PERIL OF RED REVOLT

London, Jan. 29.—Although the political and economic situation in Austria is desperate, there is little likelihood of the country being further demoralized by a Bolshevik revolt, in the opinion of Prince Joseph de Rohan, head of an ancient Austrian house, who was a recent visitor here from Vienna. The innate respect of Austrians for order, the Prince believes, will checkmate all attempts of Bolshevism to gain a foothold.

"The deplorable condition of Austria today," the Prince said, "shows no sign of an early improvement. The Government authorities seem to be wholly at a loss with regard to stabilizing the financial situation. Taxation, the rising cost of living, etc., are whirling upwards, generally with tragic but sometimes with comic effect."

Better In Hungary
"In Hungary the situation is better than in Austria, although there, also, money is all but valueless. Hungary is thoroughly loyal to the monarchial system and in course of time a king will be enthroned."

"With regard to the psychology of the Austrian people, it is quite safe to say that one sees no tendency to seek salvation in revolt. Bolshevism could never become established in Vienna, for the people are orderly and conservative. Nevertheless, the outlook is so bad that it is impossible to see how Austria can carry on."

Need Outside Help.
"It is difficult to conceive how Austria can solve her economic problems without powerful co-operation from the outside."

"I believe in the future of the Austrian and Hungarian people, for they have the will to survive their present trials with fortitude. It seems that large populations which have been absorbed by neighboring States are by no means happy under their new rule, but of this I know nothing personally."

Prince de Rohan disclaimed the possibility of the reunion of Austria with Germany and declared his own disapproval of such an arrangement.

MINERS TO MEET.

Bridgeport, O., Jan. 30.—Annual state convention of Ohio's 45,000 union miners will be held Feb. 12. It was postponed due to trials of Belmont county miners in a strike riot.

Rapid Strides Are Made In Street Paving In 20 Years

Boosters of Xenia today are prone to call our fair city "The best paved city of its size in the state," dispute often arising as to whether it holds that distinction in the state or in the nation.

Judging from files of the Gazette of 1902, rapid strides have been made in the past twenty years to bear out that claim, items appearing in the old papers deriding the muddy condition of the leading streets of the city at that time.

Motorists who today call down curses on the heads of city officials, and property holders on some streets, where paving has not reached, should have traveled Detroit Street, Xenia's thoroughfare twenty years ago, and fallen into all the pitfalls that awaited pedestrians through mud and wintry slush.

A Gazette issue, dated January 28, 1902, contained the following item: "The bad condition of the Xenia streets has caused someone to post a placard on a telephone pole at the Citizen's Bank corner, reading 'Perry boats leave for all points south every twenty minutes. Notice is given that South Side ferry passengers are not allowed on the boats without life preservers.'"

By order of the Captain.
At the City Council meeting the following night, a member of the street committee reported that "The boats have stopped running; it froze up," alluding to the Detroit Street mud canal. The item continues, "Someone inquired about broken stone to fix the street, and Mr. Logon said that Centerville would not answer his letter of inquiry and that Columbus cannot furnish broken stone at any price. The Street commission had a word of consolation on the matter, saying that the Electric Light and Gas Company, which left South Detroit Street in bad condition in putting down mains, would pay for the expense of hauling of mud and graveling. The Street Commission being instructed to proceed with the work at the expense of the company. The mains were put down from Third Street to Chan McDaniel's grocery."

Probably the cleverest and most enjoyable picture taken by the club calendar was that of the regular meeting at the Rotary Club Tuesday noon. The program committee consisted of Frank McCurran, chairman, who presided at the meeting, Schuyler N. McClellan, and George P. Tiffany, the members being responsible for a program unique and highly appreciated.

Following the club dinner, the members were requested to go to an adjoining room of the club, and were ushered into the banquet room a few minutes later. The room had been darkened, and at one end of a miniature stage had been erected, with the bill of the show at each side of the curtain. The "show" consisted of the pictures of the club members, taken when they were of tender years, and furnished much amusement. The pictures were shown through the medium of a high-powered lens, each photograph having a verse of poetry accompanying it. Schuyler N. McClellan acted as "cameraman," George P. Tiffany reading each verse with the pictures. The program committee for next week's meeting will consist of Judge R. L. Gowdy, James Wilson, Thirsk, and Frank L. Smith. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting by Judge Gowdy, that the coming meeting would be an informal "get-together" for the purpose of discussing all Rotary Club affairs.

SCHOOLS OF CITY WILL NOT RE-OPEN UNTIL FEBRUARY 5

Superintendent C. A. Waltz, announced Tuesday, City School will not re-open until Monday February 5. The high school, all the grade schools and the night schools have all been closed on account of the epidemic. Professor Waltz, who has been one of the grip victims and has been confined to his home for the last week, was able to be up for a short time Tuesday but is not yet able to leave the house.

The situation is reported to be improving somewhat but the physicians of the city advise that the schools be kept closed until the first of next week.

RECEIVES SENTENCE IN STATE HOSPITAL CRIMINAL INSANE

William James, 55, colored, indicted for assault with an intent to rob by the January Grand Jury, was sentenced to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Lima Tuesday morning by Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall.

James, accompanied by Ralph Nickens, 20, colored, is said to have made an attack on Henry Watkins, at his home near Wilberforce, January 6, striking him with a rock in an attempt to rob the house. James and Nickens were arrested shortly afterward by Sheriff Sharp, Deputy Baughn and Patrolman Stephens. Both were indicted for assault with intent to rob, and Nickens was found guilty and sentenced to from one to 15 years in the Reformatory at Mansfield.

James came here from Cleveland. His guardian, who came here recently said James had been declared in need of institutional care by a physician some time ago. The Lima sentence is indeterminate.

HOW TO USE VICKS VAPO RUB FOR DEEP GRIPPY COLDS

First, It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of The Skin Around the Lungs.

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are not so virulent as the influenza cases during the first epidemic, they are worse than ordinary colds. For these cases the usual light application of Vicks is not sufficient.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This reddening or irritation of the skin causes a rush of blood to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stapes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds are all good.

How to Produce This Effect

Our experiments have shown that an ordinary mustard plaster is very effective. Use one part of mustard to two parts of flour or flaxseed meal for adults, and one to three parts for children under eight years. An even simpler method, particularly for adults, is to apply towels, wrung out in very hot water—as hot as the patient can stand. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated. For adults, a hot mustard foot-bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water—given at this stage of the treatment, will aid in drawing the blood from the congested parts.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on like you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts Like a Vapor Lamp

The advantage of applying Vicks thickly over the body is this: Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air rise up from the chest and if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath.

Physician

In all cases a physician should be called. These deep colds are too serious and have too many complications to rely entirely on any home medication. Vicks, however, does not interfere with any treatment that the doctor may prescribe. In addition the formula of Vicks is given on every circular so there is no reason why any doctor should object to its use, except the fact that a few physicians do not care to use any thing which is advertised directly to the public.

A Pharmacist's Discovery.

Vicks VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina pharmacist. From the back room of a little drug store its use has grown until today literally tens of millions of families are never without the familiar blue jar. It is their standby for all forms of cold troubles and, in addition, is useful for the many minor ailments of the home. It is particularly a boon to mothers with small children, because it is externally applied.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin.

Repeat the Entire Treatment

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the parts. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin begins to die out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Can Add Mustard To Vicks

This redness of the skin should last for two or three hours but varies with different patients. Some skins are much more sensitive than others. This redness can be prolonged by mixing a little ordinary powdered mustard with Vicks—about one part of mustard to four parts of Vicks, but this can be varied according to the patient's skin. Just enough mustard should be used to keep up the counter-irritant effect for two to four hours, so that the wet towels or mustard plasters will not have to be used so frequently as to prevent the patient from resting.

Use in a Tea-Kettle

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10

AUSTRIAN CHAOS HOLDS NO PERIL OF RED REVOLT

London, Jan. 29.—Although the political and economic situation in Austria is desperate, there is little likelihood of the country being further demoralized by a Bolshevik revolt, in the opinion of Prince Joseph de Rohan, head of an ancient Austrian house, who was a recent visitor here from Vienna. The innate respect of Austrians for order, the Prince believes, will checkmate all attempts of Bolshevism to gain a foothold.

"The deplorable condition of Austria today," the Prince said, "shows no sign of an early improvement. The Government authorities seem to be wholly at a loss with regard to stabilizing the financial situation. Taxation, the rising cost of living, etc., are whirling upwards, generally with tragic but sometimes with comic effect."

Better in Hungary
"In Hungary the situation is better than in Austria, although there, also, money is all but valueless. Hungary is thoroughly loyal to the monarchical system and in course of time a king will be enthroned."

"With regard to the psychology of the Austrian people, it is quite safe to say that one sees no tendency to seek salvation in revolt. Bolshevism could never become established in Vienna, for the people are orderly and conservative. Nevertheless, the outlook is so bad that it is impossible to see how Austria can carry on."

Need Outside Help.
"It is difficult to conceive how Austria can solve her economic problems without powerful co-operation from the outside."

"I believe in the future of the Austrian and Hungarian people, for they have the will to survive their present trials with fortitude. It seems that large populations which have been absorbed by neighboring States are by no means happy under their new rule, but of this I know nothing personally."

Prince de Rohan disclaimed the possibility of the reunion of Austria with Germany and declared his own disapproval of such an arrangement.

Rapid Strides Are Made In Street Paving In 20 Years

Boosters of Xenia today are prone to call our fair city "The best paved city of its size in the state," dispute often arising as to whether it holds that distinction in the state or in the nation.

Judging from files of the Gazette of 1902, rapid strides have been made in the past twenty years to bear out that claim, items appearing in the old papers deriding the muddy condition of the leading streets of the city at that time.

Motorists who today call down curses on the heads of city officials, and property holders on some streets, where paving has not reached, should have traveled Detroit Street, Xenia's thoroughfare twenty years ago, and fallen into all the pitfalls that awaited pedestrians through mud and wintry slush.

A Gazette issue, dated January 28, 1902, contained the following item: "The bad condition of the Xenia streets has caused someone to post a placard on a telephone pole at the Citizen's Bank corner, reading 'Ferry boats leave for all points south every twenty minutes. Notice is given that South Side ferry passengers are not allowed on the boats without life preservers.'"

By order of the Captain.
At the City Council meeting the following night, a member of the street committee reported that "The boats have stopped running; it froze up," alluding to the Detroit Street mud canal. The item continues, "Some one inquired about broken stone to fix the street, and Mr. Logon said that Centerville would not answer his letter of inquiry and that Columbus cannot furnish broken stone at any price. The Street commission had a word of consolation on the matter, saying that the Electric Light and Gas Company, which left South Detroit Street in bad condition in putting down mains, would pay for the expense of hauling of mud and gravel. The Street Commission being instructed to proceed with the work at the expense of the company. The mains were put down from Third Street to Chan McDaniel's grocery."

Probably the cleverest and most enjoyable program on the club calendar of the Xenia Rotary Club, was presented at the regular meeting at the Elks' Club Tuesday noon. The program committee consisted of Frank McCurran, chairman, who presided at the meeting, Schuyler N. McClellan, and George P. Tiffany, the members being responsible for a program unique and highly appreciated.

Following the club dinner, the members were requested to go to an adjoining room of the club, and were ushered into the banquet room a few minutes later. The room had been darkened, and at one end of a miniature stage had been erected, with the bill of the show at each side of the curtain. The "show" consisted of the pictures of the club members, taken when they were of tender years, and furnished much amusement. The pictures were shown through the medium of a high-powered lens, each photograph having a verse of poetry accompanying it. Schuyler N. McClellan acted as "cameraman," George P. Tiffany reading each verse with the pictures. The program committee for next week's meeting will consist of Judge R. L. Gowdy, James Wilson, Third, and Frank L. Smith. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting by Judge Gowdy, that the coming meeting would be an informal "get-together" for the purpose of discussing all Rotary Club affairs.

SCHOOLS OF CITY WILL NOT RE-OPEN UNTIL FEBRUARY 5

Superintendent C. A. Waltz, announced Tuesday, City School will not re-open until Monday February 5. HOW TO USE VICKS VAPO RUB FOR DEEP GRIPPY COLDS

First, It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of The Skin Around the Lungs.

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are not so virulent as the influenza cases during the first epidemic, they are worse than ordinary colds. For these cases the usual light application of Vicks is not sufficient.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia. What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or a counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This reddening or irritation of the skin causes a rush of blood to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed. The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stupes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds are all good.

How to Produce This Effect. Our experiments have shown that an ordinary mustard plaster is very effective. Use one part of mustard to two parts of flour or flaxseed meal for adults, and one to three parts for children under eight years. An even simpler method, particularly for adults, is to apply towels, wrung out in very hot water—as hot as the patient can stand. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated. For adults, a hot mustard foot-bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water—given at this stage of the treatment, will aid in drawing the blood from the congested parts.

Then Massage With Vicks. After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on like you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts Like a Vapor Lamp

The advantage of applying Vicks thickly over the body is this: Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath.

carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin.

Repeat the Entire Treatment. When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the parts. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin begins to die out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Can Add Mustard To Vicks. This redness of the skin should last for two or three hours but varies with different patients. Some skins are much more sensitive than others. This redness can be prolonged by mixing a little ordinary powdered mustard with Vicks—about one part of mustard to four parts of Vicks, but this can be varied according to the patient's skin. Just enough mustard should be used to keep up the counter-irritant effect for two to four hours, so that the wet towels or mustard plasters will not have to be used so frequently as to prevent the patient from resting.

Use in a Tea-Kettle. Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent, so as to confine the vapors. An ordinary steam vaporizer is even more convenient than a tea-kettle.

Scanty Applications Useless. This is a vigorous treatment, but to check congestion requires vigorous measures. Vicks must be used freely to be effective. The cost of this treatment is insignificant compared with the results which are frequently obtained.

Does Not Take the Place of the Physician

In all cases a physician should be called. These deep colds are too serious and have too many complications to rely entirely on any home medication. Vicks, however, does not interfere with any treatment that the doctor may prescribe. In addition the formula of Vicks is given on every circular so there is no reason why any doctor should object to its use, except the fact that a few physicians do not care to use any thing which is advertised directly to the public.

A Pharmacist's Discovery. Vicks VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina pharmacist. From the back room of a little drug store its use has grown until today literally tens of millions of families are never without the familiar blue jar. It is their standby for all forms of cold troubles and, in addition, is useful for the many minor ailments of the home. It is particularly a boon to mothers with small children, because it is externally applied.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM ARE TWO DIFFERENT THINGS.

To advise the abrogation or repeal of a good law, by a wise man in the United States, seems incomprehensible. And yet this has just been done. At the annual meeting of the Ohio State Bar Association, at Columbus, on Friday, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, declared in a speech that the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery, and the 18th Prohibition Amendment, should by common consent be abrogated.

No one will deny that Dr. Murray is a "wise" man. He is not only the President of one of our great higher educational institutions, with dozens of degrees of honor after his name, but he is an author of renown. Yes, he is a very "wise" man. And he was speaking before a great body of law makers when he told them there was nothing left to do, humiliating and degrading as it is, but by common consent to abrogate the Constitutional Amendments against Slavery and Liquor. Here are his own words:

"The moral sense, as well as the common sense of many persons, is affronted by a policy which will expend millions of dollars and use the methods of Czarist Russia and of the Spanish Inquisition to enforce one provision of law, while others of far greater significance and public importance are accorded conventional treatment, or less. No one who is familiar with the practical workings of our political system would expect either the fifteenth or the eighteenth amendment to be repealed within measurable time. So far as one can see, therefore, we are shut up to the alternative of their attempted enforcement by soldiers, and police and special agents, and detectives and spies, or to their abrogation over a great part of the land by local initiative and common consent. Either alternative is humiliating and degrading."

As we said, Dr. Butler is a very "wise" man. But wisdom is the right use of knowledge. To know, is not always wisdom. Many men know a great deal and are all the greater fools for it. There is no fool so great a fool as a knowing fool. But when you know how to use knowledge then you have wisdom. And wisdom is to the mind what health is to the body.

Yes, Mr. Butler is a "wise" man, but is horribly mistaken as to his diagnosis of public opinion in this country regarding slavery and prohibition. Slavery and the saloon have both gone forever, and though Dr. Butler and his Kith may rail against it their views are but idle words.

There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job. Three friends tried in vain to make him think black is white. Out of patience at last, he said to them in effect: "No doubt you fellows, Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar, think you are the people and that 'wisdom will die with you.'"

And there are others.

IS AMERICA TO BLAME FOR EUROPE'S TROUBLES?

Senator-elect Ralston, of Indiana, in a speech before the Cincinnati Democratic Duckworth Club, declared that the responsibility for French invasion of the Ruhr region rested upon the American Congress, because of its resistance to President Wilson's reparations policy in 1919.

It has become habitual with Democratic politicians to blame the United States for every evil thing that happens in Europe. Governor Ralston seems to have let his imagination play to the limit in his Cincinnati statement. It is evident that there was more partisanship than respect for the facts of history involved in his criticism.

The invasion of the Ruhr region is due to the age-old conflict between Germany and France and to the provisions of the Versailles treaty. The Congress elected by the American people in 1918 cannot rationally be held responsible. Congress had nothing to do with the framing of the treaty under which France claims the right to occupy German territory. For that stupid, vicious war-breeding pact President Wilson bears all the American responsibility. No other American was allowed to have a "look in" on the transactions behind closed doors at Paris as the result of which the treaty and league scheme were secretly hatched. Nothing but jaundiced partisanship could hold the Congress of 1919-20 responsible for the impossible terms of the Versailles treaty, betraying, with President Wilson's consent, practically every one of the Fourteen points by which the Germans claim they were seduced into an armistice before being fully defeated in the field as they inevitably would have been in a few weeks but for President Wilson's insistence on a negotiated peace.

US TERRIBLE YOUNG FOLKS.

"Never was there a time in the history of society showing such a want of discipline and so strong a tendency toward looseness as at present. It is seen, felt and read of at all times and in many places, building up a fearful influence of evils which, if not checked by banishing ignorance and pushing forward more earnestly the cause of education and religion, will demoralize the tender years of youth; crush out the virtue of polite society and the good old rules which rear the eager boy and blushing girl into years of discretion, modesty, culture and usefulness."

This is a pretty severe indictment of the young folks. Yes, But wait a minute. Was it written by some reformer for a daily paper published day before yesterday? Well, hardly. It was written for publication in the Galveston (Texas) News by Colonel J. H. Martin, of Corsicana, in the year—1874.

Let's see about that.

From 1874 to 1923 is 49 years. Supposing the condition of the young folks 49 years ago was as terrible as the Colonel says it was, by this time those terrible young folks are all grown up and we are them or they. And while modesty prevent the Editor from mentioning names, it seems within the bounds of possibility that some of us or of them have turned out fairly well even if we were in 1874 headed for the bow-wows. If you think over the folks who are grown up and whom you know as personal acquaintances—that group that were young folks in 1874—isn't it true that most of them are fairly decent and respectable citizens, good husbands and wives and most of them out of a jail or an asylum or a House of Correction? We don't want to be too egotistic or self-congratulatory about it, but if "us old folks" were as bad in 1874 as the Colonel then thought, it is to somebody's credit that inside of 49 years we managed to reform and turn over several leaves in the book of life.

As a matter of fact young folks in every generation have come in for severe criticism by their elders, who forget that their elders said the same thing about them. We have no doubt that 74 A. D. the young folks were as terrible as in 1874. There is some historical evidence that they were even worse. The good old times are still ahead of us.

WHAT GOOD WILL IT DO TO COUNT THE CALORIES AT THE DINNER TABLE

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Allen McClain has been in Cincinnati for several weeks past taking a course in the Clark Embalming College, and went to Columbus a day or two ago and passed the examination. It is a little unusual that four generations should have been engaged as undertakers, as Allen's father, grandfather and great grandfather followed the business.

McCurran Brothers have been given the contract for the new addition to be made to the Xenia cordage mill on the Cincinnati pike by which the capacity of the mill will be doubled.

Although Xenia Masonic lodge was established in 1818, last night the presence of the Grand Master was the second time in its history that the lodge has been honored in this manner. Dr. W. G. Belt, of Kenton, the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio was present and gave an interesting talk.

The name of a Xenia boy, Charles Earl Smith, is on the list of graduates from Annapolis Normal Academy next Monday.

SOME INTERESTING LETTERS

Anxious—I am always so pleased to find somebody who wants red hair. Most people who have it want to get rid of it. Your hair is almost but not quite red, you say. Well, it is easy to increase its coppery tints. Use the ordinary henna shampoo, that is, make a shampoo powder from one ounce of powdered henna mixed with three ounces of powdered Castile soap. Put a heaping teaspoonful of this in a pint of very hot water and let this thoroughly all over the head, rinsing well afterwards. Or you can use the extra henna shampoo. For this you wash and rinse the hair as usual, then you make a thin paste from powdered henna and hot water and cover the scalp and hair all over while it is hot. Let it stay on about five minutes and rinse out thoroughly. This will not alter the actual color of your hair but it will give it rich coppery tints.

M. E. B.—Many women with beautiful complexions use cleansing cream instead of soap. The advantage is that cleansing cream can be worked further into the skin than soap and consequently it will attack the hard black matter that goes deeply into the pores. On the other hand there is something valuable in the various ingredients of soap. I think the best way to cleanse the skin thoroughly is to massage it first with cleansing cream then wash it out with soap and water.

Alice May.—You are quite right to take care of your skin so that in after years it will still be beautiful. If you use a very little bit of good quality rouge, so lightly that it simply gives life to your skin and does not show I do not think it will do you any harm, especially if you remove the color at night.

Virginia.—If the hair is too oily a morbid condition of the scalp exists. Too much washing makes this condition worse. Therefore the shampoo should take place once in three weeks, and between times a little powder or powdered orris should be used on the hair but not on the scalp.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm, Rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. Get it today and save all further distress.

The scalp itself must be treated with oil, odd as this may seem; the best way is to massage it thoroughly with hot olive or hot crude oil the night before the shampoo, your suggestion of kerosene is a good one, you can massage the scalp with it if you wish some hours before you shampoo. Crude oil, however, has less odour and is even more beneficial.

Cupid.—The ready prepared shampoo you have been using is very bad for your hair because like most of these preparations, it contains a great proportion of alcohol which dries the scalp. Use coconut oil soap or castile soap melted to a thin syrup with hot water. Send me a letter with a s. a. e. enclosed for my formula for an excellent hair tonic.

X. Y. Z.—See answer above. This hair tonic is also good for greying hair because it contains piperazine which stimulates the colour cells of the hair.

Mildred.—Send me a letter with a s. a. e. enclosed for a cream that will make the eyelashes long and thick.

Waiting.—The harmless eyelash dye is: 1 dram peroxide of manganese 1 dram water 2 drams glycerine

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster

Beryl—Yes, you are right. At least, some scientists have set up the claim that it is possible for disease germs to be carried and deposited on the moon from other planets, on the tail of a comet.

Musician—The first military band in England was heard in 1755. The Duke of York, son of George III, imported a band of twelve German musicians, with three negroes, and established them as the band of the Coldstream Guards. Other regiments then formed bands on similar lines. The negroes continued to form part of the bands until 1838.

E. E.—The Sherry gyro-stabilizer which, its inventor claims, will prevent a ship from rolling badly in a rough sea, is a solid metal device 13 ft. in diameter and 100 tons in weight capable of revolving 800 times a minute.

Motorist—On the English boulevard, and also on the streets of many of the countries of Europe, the automobiles are kept to the left of the drive. This accounts for the right hand steering arrangement of practically all foreign-built automobiles.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Caused by Troubles Women Often Have—Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Medina, New York.—"I had a great deal of trouble such as women often have, and this affected my nerves. For over two years I suffered this way, then I read in the Buffalo Times about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have taken it with very good results. I am very much better and feel justified in praising the Vegetable Compound to my friends and neighbors who suffer from anything of the kind."—Mrs. WM. H. ADKINS, 311 Erin Road, Medina, N. Y.

Feels Like Girl Sixteen

Rochester, N. Y.—"After my twin girls were born I was all run-down. My neighbors thought I was going to die. I saw your advertisement in the paper and bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me and I kept on taking it. I only weighed ninety pounds when I began taking it, and I have gained in weight and feel like a girl of sixteen. I never can say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. NELLIE DORRY, 16 Skuse Park, Rochester, N. Y.

THE TWO AUNTS.

Aunt Bridget takes in washing, her work is hard and long, but she is joking, joshing, and springing chunks of song; Aunt Bridget is a dinger, a happy, cheerful singer; she plies her creaking wringer, and she is going strong. I pass her humble shanty, that smells of suds and soap, and say, "How is it, Aunt, you're full of joy and hope? So many folks are whining, so many are repining; your face is always shining—now hand me out the dope." She says, "I can't explain it, why I am always gay, and yet, I dare maintain it, the fantods keep away; if I had time for brooding I might find hope deluding, and grief would come intruding before the close of day. Throughout the day I'm busy in soapsuds and in foam, and then, in my tin Lizzie, I take the bundles home; I'm always on my mettle, I'm in the finest fettle, and sorrow doesn't settle upon my furrowed dome." Aunt Julia has a bundle that well might load a dray, and to the bank she'll trundle a package every day; but she is tired of gadding, of servants round her padding, and she is tired of adding the coin she's put away. She's tired of week-end parties and pink teas on the lawn, of entertaining smarties who bore her till they're gone; she's tired of fashion's ruling, of all the idle fooling, the gossip and the drooling; her face is sad and drawn.

GET A PROSPEROUS HEART I am not any too expert at selecting prosperous people from the crowd, and yet I can sometimes make the selection. The fact is that prosperity usually wears the same sort of clothes. Even a man's face dresses itself up under unusual success. I have a friend who has an unusually prosperous heart. I know this for this friend never seems to run out of wealth that is constantly giving away. Smiles (no tears), thoughtfulness, appreciation, generosity, tolerance, kindness, self-sacrifice—these neglected virtues make up that prosperous heart. Love most, give much, forgive, forget, have no fear, relax, play, be positive in your thinking and in your decisions remember that happiness is hidden right where you are and that to get it you have but to search for it, and your heart will take upon itself great prosperity. What a wonderful experience to spend an entire evening with a prosperous heart! Prosperity doesn't come all at once, however. You have to plant things, you have to loosen ground, and you have to be born with much patience and be ready for disaster if it should come. Usually the most prosperous heart is that one which was once very poor, which had to go through great privations and disappointments and discouragements, until it got a little hold upon life—and then life seemed so good that it went right on having faith and believing until it became naturally prosperous. A prosperous heart is happy anywhere and everywhere.

TRANS-OCEANIC RADIO PHONE IS FRUIT OF YEARS

New York, Jan. 29.—Tales of experiments extending over a score of years to determine the possibilities of trans-oceanic radiophone communication which culminated recently in the successful transmission of spoken messages from New York City to England were told by Gen. John J. Carty, vice president and chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in an interview granted to International News Service.

While Carty declared that there are still difficulties to be overcome before the "transatlantic telephone" would become a commercially accomplished fact, he appeared certain that this would ultimately be achieved.

"Somehow or another we are bound to have it," he said vehemently.

BETTER IN WINTER

"We have discovered through this series of experiments that talking 'gets through' better in winter than in summer, in daylight than in darkness and on some days than on others.

"When we know absolutely why these things are true, then we will be able to predict accurately the future of trans-oceanic radio."

The American Telephone and Telegraph has been conducting experiments in radio telephony for a score of years, Carty said, and has been working on the series of tests which resulted in communication with England in conjunction with the American Radio Corporation for some time prior to the experiment.

"We first met with success in our attempts in 1915," he said. "In that year we succeeded in getting through to France, where our messages were received by observers at the Eiffel Tower, in Paris.

"Later in the same year we were able to talk to Hawaii.

"Since then we have been continuing our research work, aided by the American Radio Corporation, and with the vastly improved apparatus used, were able, of course, to get much better results.

NOT TUBE ALONE

Carty declared a popular impression that the success of the experiment was due solely to a new type of vacuum tube to be incorrect.

"It is a great deal more than that," he said. "The new tube is vital to success, to be sure, but the possibility of trans-oceanic communication really rests upon the use of a much improved transmitting device of which the tube is only a part."

TODAY'S RHINELAND DEVELOPMENTS

General DeGoutte, French commander in chief in the Rhineland, has tightened the state of siege in the virtual martial law in the areas held by French and Belgians. The Ruhr basin is isolated by extension of railway, telegraph and telephone strikes.

Sabotage and disorders were reported from various quarters of the occupied zone, with violence spreading southward from Westphalia.

It was estimated that there are about 200,000 German workers idle through strikes and shutdowns.

France has protested to Holland against the retention of German freight barges needed for coal, coke and iron shipments.

A Moscow dispatch received in Rome quoted Russian officials as saying Russia would not intervene with troops in Germany unless a bolshevik revolution broke out, in which event the Russian Reds would help their German comrades.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES LAMENESS

"A lameness followed me for some time, and I felt that it was caused from kidney trouble. One bottle of Foley Kidney Pills had the desired effect," writes H. B. Arbuckle, South Barre, Vermont. Styles BY LENORE

Southern resort fashions usually indicate what the trend of spring styles will be, so it is safe to expect a season gay with striking colors of the new embroidered and printed fabrics that are now being exploited.

They are wonderfully decorative these silks with their curious patterns and flamboyant colors. Whole gowns are made of them and they yield endless possibilities for smartness in combination with plain colors as in the gown illustrated.

In this design the manner of combining the two materials, dark blue faille with red, blue and green embroidered crepe is skillful and distinctively original. The lines are unusual, but pleasing. Admirably suited to the slenderness of the typical American figure.

STYLES DON'T IRK BRITISH STATESMEN

London, January 29.—"Clothes don't make the man," runs the old adage, and as one looks over the British statesmen on the front benches of the House of Commons and the House of Lords, the old proverb seems to prove itself.

Just as the United States House of Representatives and Senate are a sartorial hodge-podge, so are the British legislative chambers.

Lloyd George seems to dote on baggy trousers. There is something about his clothes that denotes force—force that almost breaks the buttons.

Law's Garb Varied

Bonar Law has a wide choice of wardrobe, but he doesn't seem to know where he is; for his clothes, though always neat, would never be copied by the "Burlington Bertie" of Monocle Row. He has no choice in hats and, like Winston Churchill, has a wide variety; sometimes he wears a soft felt, sometimes a derby and frequently a silk hat.

Sir Robert Horne is a bachelor, and mayhap that is why he is the best dressed man in Commons. His clothes always fit, and he always wears the right thing. You would never catch Sir Robert wearing a derby hat with a dinner jacket.

Lord Birkenhead is one of those lucky persons who always look the picture of fashion, no matter what they wear. Lord Birkenhead can wear a tweed suit into the dining room of the Savoy Hotel and get away with it, or he can show up for a political conference in riding breeches and yet cause no clamor.

He wears his clothes so well that he ought to be in the "movies."

Lord Salisbury has made the raglan coat popular. He is the best dressed member of that historic Cecil family and has a good bit of what the Brits call "swank."

Fine Assortment.

Over on the Labor benches one sees a wide variety of habiliment. J. H. Thomas affects the small black tie that slips on over the collar button by a patent process. J. R. Clynes glories in pompadour hair and waved mustache, which detract attention from his clothes. Ben Tillett, the most voluble of all the Laborites, is reported to have been seen wearing white spats—no, not in his own constituency.

Lord Gladstone studies comfort, and apparently his idea of comfort is room.

The Earl of Balfour always appears neat, but he hardly has what might be called dash. He displays more neck than a debutante and must have to muffle up well these cold winter days. But he has been wearing those frank, open-faced collars that lie low on the shoulder blades for well over a century now.

Herbert Asquith wears his clothes as though under the direction of Margot. There is no consistency about his dress.

There are sartorial bright spots here and there in the British legislative chambers, but not enough to startle Beau Brummel.

WILL NOT CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY

Although Clinton County officials have not announced whether a special session of the Grand Jury will be called to consider the first degree murder charges against Louis Vandervoort, and Walter Bangham, who are held without bond on charges of slaying Emory McCright of the Wilmington police department last February, it is rumored that the case will not be given to the Grand Jury until the May session.

Prosecuting Attorney E. J. West conferred with Common Pleas Judge F. M. Cleveland of Clinton County Monday in regard to a special session. The result of the conference was not given out, and officials announce that the time of the Grand Jury hearing is still problematical. Rumors that are given credit in Wilmington, however, say that the jury will not be called in special session.

This means, if true, that the two youths will continue to occupy their cells in the Clinton County Jail without action until the May Grand Jury meets and the cases are presented to that body. It is said that officials believe more incriminating evidence against the accused youths may be dug up through the continued investigations of authorities in Greene, Clinton and Fayette Counties.

Both youths were bound over to the Grand Jury without bond by Squire W. I. Stewart in Wilmington last Saturday morning on affidavits charging them with first degree murder. Frank Moorman and Archie Glass of near Jamestown, held on charges of burglary and larceny for complicity with Vandervoort in one or more of a series of robberies he is said to have admitted perpetrating, were held under $1,000 bond. Moorman furnished bondsman Monday and was released. Glass is still in custody.

The possibility that a microscope found in the loot said to have been stolen by Vandervoort and confiscated by officers may have originally belonged to Wilmington College, was announced by Clinton County authorities, Tuesday. Vandervoort is said to have attended summer school at Wilmington College. After he had left the institution, it was learned that the microscope, said to be a valuable instrument, had disappeared, according to officials. Professor Boyd, of the College faculty, was expected to come to Jamestown Tuesday to attempt to identify the microscope being held by authorities there.

MRS. DRAKE EDINGTON DIES LATE MONDAY

Mrs. Elisha P. Drake Edington, 91, widow of Robert N. Edington, died at the home of Miss Jennie Moffit, on North Galloway Street, where she has resided, Monday afternoon at four o'clock. Death was the result of the infirmities of age. Mrs. Edington had been an invalid for the past three years. She sustained the fracture of her hip at that time, and for over two years was a patient at the McClellan Hospital, until removed to the Moffit home.

Mrs. Edington was born in Brown County, Ohio, February 10, 1833 and was united in marriage to Mr. Edington, in December 1853. Eight children were born to the union, five of whom preceded their mother in death. Three sons, R. P. Edington, of St. Louis, Mo.; Robert C. Edington, of Montana; and I. M. Edington, of Jamestown, survive.

Mrs. Edington was a member of the Christian Church at Pleasant Hill, Brown County, for about 60 years. She resided for several years at Jamestown.

The body was removed to the Nagley Funeral Home on East Market Street, where funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. C. P. Proudfit, of the Second United Presbyterian Church. The remains were taken to Winchester, Ohio, her former home for services and burial Wednesday.

MRS. ANNA E. CRANE SUCCUMBS TUESDAY

Mrs. Anna E. Crane, 62, wife of George Crane, died at her home on the Columbus pike, east of Xenia, near the East Point School, Tuesday morning at eight o'clock following a four weeks' illness.

She is survived by her step-father David S. Harner of the Fairground road, and the following half sisters and brothers, Mrs. T. C. James, of East Market Street, this city; Mrs. Walter N. Laurence, of the Union neighborhood, and Casper Harner, of near Xenia.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced later.

continues to mow down all opposition in systematic form.

The Dabcos leaders of the factory league in Dayton, are going to try to take a fall out of the Autos at the Central High Court Tuesday night, but unless they can show better form than the 'Enon Triangles, the Middle-town Miamis and the Wallace Collegians they are going to be far outdistanced.

The combination that George Haller has gotten together seems to be out there in front on the occasion of every session with the hoops and nets.

With such stars as Barlow, Mark, Koester, Koehly, Solimano and Solowitz, the Autos are represented by a sweet selection of court material. The Dabcos have been going at a great clip in their own circle and are leading their loop handily. Whether they are biting off more than they can masticate thoroughly will be decided at the Central High court when these outfits mingle Tuesday night.

The night will be Ladies Night, and all fair fans will be admitted free. With the gym now heated more comfort is offered the bugs than in the past and the Autos are hoping for a good turn out.

ADAIR'S Xenia's Leading Furniture Store for Over Thirty-Five Years

Every home needs a new piece of furniture. This great sale which begins Thursday, gives the people of Xenia the long-looked-for opportunity of buying at most reasonable prices the very things needed to make the home a better place in which to live.

Practically every Xenia home needs some new piece of furniture—many require complete new furnishings.

Dining Chairs $16.00

If the chairs in your dining set need replacing, consider those we offer now. A set of four in oak, leather seats, priced at $16.00. Sets of six, in combination walnut, dull finish, priced at $33.00. Many other notable values in dining chairs will be shown you.

Library Tables $23.50

In a very attractive design. One is here sketched. The top is of solid construction, and is made with one large center drawer. Is in the double pedestal style, with large substantial base and carved mounts. For its utility and decorative worth it is deserving of a place in the modern library. $23.50

Dining Suite of Priceless Worth 9 Pieces Complete, in Walnut ... $147.00

Such is the worth of this walnut dining suite that it is not amiss to say that once possessed, it will serve indefinitely. For each and every piece has been constructed with that one idea in mind. Suite is in the Queen Anne style. Includes the oblong table, buffet, cabinet, one arm chair and five straight chairs. Chair seats are slip style, covered in genuine leather.

Floor Lamps $19.75

Floor lamps are equally important in this worth while selling. Priced complete with harmonious shades, polychrome sticks and silk draw cords. They're made to grace the finest of homes—priced now at $19.75.

Roomy Duofold $42.00

A good sized duofold, upholstered in leather is a very good value, priced at $42.00. Frame is in solid oak, golden finish. Upon any occasion can be opened to a roomy and comfortable bed. Springs used in construction are the best to be had. Ask to see this model demonstrated.

3 Piece Walnut Bedroom Set $98.00

A bedroom suite of irresistible beauty, three pieces comprising the bow end bed, chiffonette and full vanity dressing table, priced at $98.00, will tend to give you some tangible idea of our present bedroom values. In this suite the casework throughout is superb, which is reflected at first sight. The pieces are fashioned in a turned design which is distinctly appealing. Suite is finished in a warm shade of walnut. Chair, bench and rocker, with cane seats may be had at a cost of $21.00.

Brass Bed like cut $27.00

Dotted Swiss Curtains $2.25

The ruffled window hangings add that finishing decorative touch to the room as a whole. They are straight hanging, no tie-backs being used. Priced $2.25 the pair.

Leather Rocker $10.95

The staunchness of construction in this rocker makes for a most unusual value. Frame is of oak, seat has tempered spiral springs. Covering over all is in a genuine Spanish leather. Priced now, at $10.95.

3 Piece Daveno Suite in Cane and Velour $159.00

From our living room section we take as an example offering a three piece daveno suite, and quite remarkable it is. Consists of a long daveno, arm chair and rocker. Sides and backs are of woven cane, while front panel runner and seats are covered in tapestry. Of marked importance is the fact that the davenport opens to a full-sized bed, bedding with-drawn from an out-of-sight inner compartment. This suite really affords the utility of two. Frame is finished in mahogany.

Vanity Dressing Table $49.00

If you have wanted a full vanity dressing table for your bedroom, as no doubt you have, better see these now offered at $49.00. They represent all that is to be desired in one. Large mirrors, roomy drawers, in neat period styles. Semi Vanity Dressing as low as $39.00

Davenport Single $75.00

These davenports were specially made as extras. And they combine all the requisites to superlative furniture. Spring construction, loose Marshall spring seats. Frame is solid, finished in mahogany. Covered in velour.

LEGION FIVE DEFEATS DEFENDERS 10 TO 7

FAMOUS AUTOS TO MINGLE WITH DABOOS TUESDAY NIGHT

CAESARCREEK HIGH TAKES DOUBLE-HEADER

XENIA WALLOPS DEFENDERS

The New York Defenders basketball team went down to defeat at the hands of the Xenia John Roan Post five here Monday night by the score of 10 to 7, in one of the most exciting games ever played at the Rink. The game marked the second defeat handed the New York five by the locals this season. So close was the guarding of Spears and Jones that the visitors were forced to take long shots at the basket seldom getting in the open anywhere near the net.

Sol Butler started the scoring early in the fracas with a free throw but several minutes later Anderson came through with a neat ringer from beneath the basket and Winters duplicated the feat with a long one from the center of the floor. With the score standing 4 to 1 with the locals in the lead the visitors were not to be denied and Rhone and Huggins both turned in long shots from mid floor that put the visitors out in front. In the closing minutes of the first half Duff dribbled through the entire New York team and threw a header which gave the Xenia bunch a one point lead, the half ending with the score standing 6 to 5.

The second half was a repetition of the first. The Defenders fought hard to stop the ex-soldiers but their best efforts fell short. The all around play of both teams was pretty to watch. Duff started things going in this period with a nice shot from under the basket. The two teams then battled hard for at least ten minutes when Winters came through with a header. Sol Butler repeated it for New York and the scoring was over. The visitors fought hard at this stage and were making desperate efforts to cage one but the defense of the Xenia bunch was just a little too tight for them.

The game was clean only five fouls being called during the pastime by Referee Rachford, who handled the game in first class fashion. Winters was high man in the scoring with two fielders while Duff also made two, J. Anderson at forward, Spears and Jones at the guards also played well while Winters and Duff played their usual brand of high class ball. Butler,

Rhone and Huggins starred for the visitors.

Lineup and summary: Xenia—10 New York—7 J. Anderson R. F. Hill Winters (c) L. F. Z. Anderson Duff C. Butler (c) Spears R. G. Huggins Jones L. G. Rhone

Scoring: Xenia—J. Anderson 1, Winters 2, Duff 2, Fouls: Winters 0 out of four; New York—Butler 1, Huggins 1, Rhone 1, Fouls Butler 1 out of 2, Referee: L. Rachford.

On next Monday night the local team will meet the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. five on the Rink Court the game to start at 8:30 p. m.

DEMANDS DAMAGES TO SUM OF $5,000 FOR ALLEGED SLANDER

Alleging that he has been slandered and damaged in reputation to the extent of $5,000, Oscar S. Hull, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against L. E. John, East Main Street billiard hall operator, asking damages in that sum.

Hull alleges in his petition that he was formerly employed as a clerk in the defendant's billiard hall, and that he was discharged January 9, 1923. He alleges that the defendant told Ralph Compton, George Bortoff, Ralph Stark, Marion Reeves, Herman Pemberton, Grant Cutliffe and Frank Cutliffe that Hull was a crook and a thief and that the home Hull is building was being paid out of the money he stole from the defendant.

Hull maintains in his petition that these statements are false, slanderous and untrue and that he has been damaged in reputation in the amount asked. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

Sues On Account

Harriet Schweibold, as executrix of the estate of Ed. Schweibold, deceased, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Charles Kline and Harry Lewis, for $500 alleged due as balance of account of work done prior to May 16, 1922. The plaintiff asks the amount with interest from August 12, 1922. Miller and Finney represent the plaintiff.

Claims Account Due

Alleging he purchased an account from L. E. Oster for $72.15 alleged due from Fred Wright for work done between November 6, 1920 and March 28, 1921, Lincoln Punderburgh has brought suit in Common Pleas Court to recover judgment in that amount. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

Account Is Overdue

Hall Ed Dickman wants a judgment in the sum of $188 on account with interest from April 17, 1922, from Charles C. Kinney, according to his petition filed in Common Pleas Court. Charles L. Hogle is attorney for the plaintiff.

Says Times Not Paid For

The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company is plaintiff in an action in Common Pleas Court against David Harrison, doing business as the Harrison Battery and Tire Shop for $288.29 alleged due on account and bearing six per cent interest from August 22, 1922. Harry D. Smith is attorney for the plaintiff.

Partition Is Sought

Doris Russell seeks partition of estate in her petition filed with Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam naming as defendants, W. L. Copesey, Irma Copesey, a minor of the age of 17 years; Orlo Copesey, a minor of the age of 14 years; Archie Copesey, a minor of the age of eight years; Norma Copesey, a minor of the age of five years and The Home Building and Savings Company and Veda Copesey. The plaintiff claims she and the defendants are entitled to one-sixth of the estate of Louise H. Copesey, who died intestate in January, 1919, leaving property including 25 acres of land on which the building and loan association claims a mortgage lien. Miller and Finney represent the plaintiff.

PHILIPPINE LAW MAY REGULATE QUEER RECORDS

Manila, Jan. 29.—That the so-called "Chinese Bookkeeping" law which compels all merchants to keep their accounts in English, Spanish, or the prevailing dialect, ought to be abolished is said to be the conclusion reached here by Assistant Secretary of Commerce, Huston when he visited the Philippines recently.

The law is thus designated because it affects, principally, approximately 20,000 Chinese merchants who do 85 per cent of the retail business in the islands, besides having a hand in export and the wholesale distribution trade.

In spite of this and the opposition of the Chinese, it is expected the law will remain effective. It is destined to expedite periodical governmental examination for purposes of collecting internal revenues and taxes.

Recently a Chinese multi-millionaire died here. He was absolutely illiterate, even in his own language. When he came to Manila he was a water carrier, and when he had saved up 25 pesos he began to trade. Soon he had 5,000 pesos; from this foundation his fortune began. A portion of his profits was invested in downtown real estate.

Bills were paid in cash—as much as 100,000 pesos at a time. Toward the end of his career he was prevailed upon to patronize a bank. When told that the bank would not open an account for less than 25,000 pesos he smiled and called a Chinese "cargador," or porter. Into this man's two huge baskets the old Chinese merchant emptied a portion of his valued treasure—bales of money of $5,000 each—and merchant and porter went to the bank.

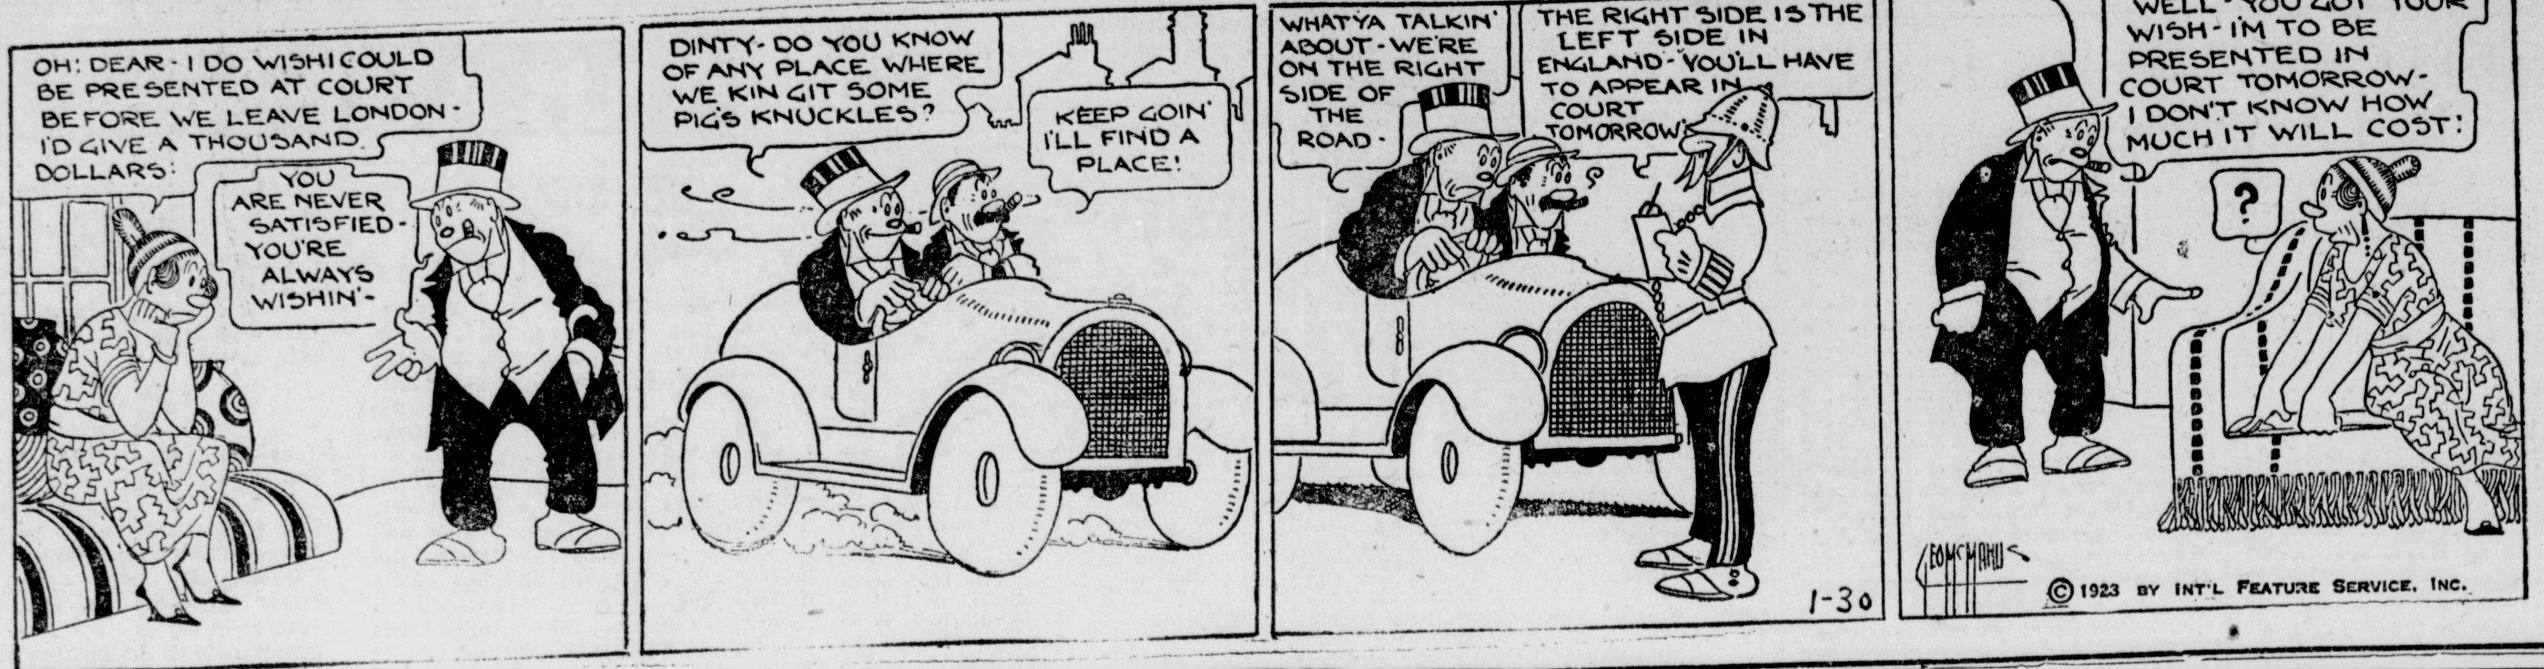

The money poured over the counter. It totaled more than a quarter of a million in gold. The banker was taken quite off his feet. The old Chinese rubbed his hands and laughed uproariously—for the Chinese have a keen sense of humor.

"Why, I—, if you cannot read, and write, how is it you are able to avoid losses in your business and how do you know how you stand in your accounts?" he was asked.

His shrewd eyes sparkled as he replied, in crude Spanish.

"Well, I myself am the buyer. I myself am the seller, I myself am the cashier, I myself am the collector and I myself am the owner. How can the money get away? It cannot!

BYRON

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kendig entertained a number of friends to an oyster supper, Thursday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linebaugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Harner and family, Mr. Ben Ashbaugh and family.

A new daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Augusta Ashbaugh Wednesday evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Ella Maxton was held at the late residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Byron Cemetery.

Mrs. Bell, the teacher of Byron school, has been quite ill for several days. Miss Miriam Harner has been teaching in her place.

The Byron Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Esther Carlyle, Thursday, Feb. 1.

The condition of Mr. Charles Watts who has been quite ill of pneumonia remains unchanged.

POLICEMAN SHOT; PRISONER ESCAPES.
Steubenville, O., Jan. 27.—Police are searching for a man giving the name of Vincenzo Campagna of Pittsburgh, charged with shooting and probably fatally wounding William Snyder, night patrolman at Mingo Junction, near here, in a successful escape. Snyder and another officer had arrested Campagna, who, it is charged, had a suitcase full of liquor, at Mingo Junction. While walking towards the jail he escaped from the officers, drew a revolver, shot Snyder through the abdomen and escaped.

TWO FLIERS INJURED.
Marietta, O., Jan. 27.—Bee Vincent, 38, of Beverly, is in a local hospital suffering from probable internal injuries and his brother Guy, 25, was badly bruised, when an airplane in which they were flying crashed to earth a mile east of here. Dropping from a height of 200 feet, the plane swooped into a wagon load of fodder.

Coleen: "For goodness sake, will you please tell me how hotels and restaurants make the lettuce in their salads stay in cup shape? I have tried and tried to make my lettuce at home do this, but I think there must be some particular way to hold the mouth, or some magic words to repeat, before one can achieve this effect!"

Answer: I know that the note of exasperation in your letter must have sprung from many bouts with unruly salad-leaves! But there is no magic about it—just a little trick. Hotel chefs make the salad cup-shape by cutting a slit crosswise at the end of one large leaf and inserting the point of another large leaf into this slit. Sometimes the end which goes into the slit must be cut pointed with a scissors. This little trick results in holding the leaves together closely, so that they cannot separate when you fill the center, between them, with fruit, vegetables, etcetera. Several leaves may be locked together by this method instead of only two, if desired. If you are interested in dainty salads, do not fail to read my column tomorrow.

New Reader: "Why do my loaf cakes rise up in the middle and crack?"

Answer: Either your oven is too hot, or the cake-mixture too thick. M. M.: "How is salad oil made?"

Answer: Combine two parts cooking oil and one part olive oil.

Inquirer: "Is there any way of making ordinary bread flour more like pastry flour?"

Answer: Yes, and many housewives do. Pastry flour contains a large percentage of starch and a smaller percentage of gluten than bread flour, and therefore makes more tender pastry than the bread flour. But if you do not wish to use pastry flour in making pies, you can make the bread flour almost like it by adding two level tablespoons of cornstarch to each cupful of the bread flour used. This will give you almost as good results as you could obtain by using regular pastry flour. Marie: "How do professional bakers make those lovely wide fluted rims on their meringue pies and tarts?"

Answer: They cut the rolled out pie crust three-fourths of an inch beyond the pie pan (a clean pair of scissors is excellent for cutting pie crusts) then they turn this extra-wide pastry edge under, on itself, for half an inch. Fluting can be done by pinching the rim with thumb and forefinger of both hands into little "peaks."

OHIO REPRESENTED IN STATE OF FLORIDA

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 30.—(Special)—Ohio is represented in Florida this winter by approximately 20,000 tourists and of that number 8,500 are sojourning here in the "Sunshine City," with each day adding newcomers to the Buckeye colony.

Xenia is represented by several, including Mrs. J. A. Baldwin, of 237 West Second Street, Xenia, who has returned for her tenth winter season and is residing at 527 First Avenue north.

Ohioans are preparing for the "Festival of States," celebration to be held here in March. Several floats will represent the Presidential state in the parade marking the opening of the gala event. The Ohio society is having a large float made and the Xenia people have voted to participate.

DRY SLEUTHS ARRESTED.
Bridgeport, O., Jan. 27.—William Nash and William Jenkins, said to be dry sleuths from Nelsonville, were arrested on a charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor to James Smith of Bellaire. They were released on $500 bond. Smith charged that the two men tried to buy whisky at his poolroom in Bellaire. Unable to obtain any, he said, they passed a bottle and told Smith he might keep the remainder. Later the place was raided by other officers. Smith, claiming he had been framed, caused the arrest of Nash and Jenkins.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

DOREEN REMAINS IN HER ROOM

Synopsis of Previous Chapters

Miss Vernon gives Doreen a new cause for anxiety when the monthly bills come in, for she discovers that Walter has been sending Vashti many flowers. They have also been to the opera together.

Another day she enters the studio and overhears what she considers a compromising remark passed between her husband and Vashti. Without letting the couple know they have been overheard, Doreen returns home greatly wrought up.

CHAPTER 31

Everything that had happened before seemed to sink into insignificance.

It was worse than my fears. The beautiful society girl had won Walter from me—or he had been unable to resist her loveliness, combined with all the other qualities he admired. I never had deceived myself a moment about Miss Vernon, never doubted her cleverness.

As I lay prone on the bed, I felt strangely numb, as though the end of everything had arrived for me. Over and over I heard her saying: "We aren't either of us strong enough. No, don't ask me to sit again."

Such words could have but one meaning. That Walter had called her "dear" too was an added sting. That with him, as with many, the word was often applied indiscriminately, meaninglessly migrated the feeling not at all.

Applied to Vashti Vernon it seemed to mean all an endeavoring word is meant to mean.

"What shall I do?" I asked. "I must do something. I can't go on as if I knew nothing, as I did not know." For years I had hidden my hurts, my real sufferings, because of my sure faith in Walter's real goodness, his love for me and his boy. But there comes a time when no matter how hard a woman tries, she can conceal her jealousy no longer. I was sure that time had come to me.

I had suffered because of Helen Ralstrom, had been jealous and hurt because of others; but never had I really thought in my heart that Walter would be willing to give me up, or that he wanted to be, faithless. That belief, had given me courage to go on, to keep silent, to hide my jealousy, my hurt.

Now that feeling, at least a great part of it, was swept away. I still believed him faithful, but I also believed he WANTED to be free—free to give expression to his love for this girl, who was free. They were fighting the love they felt for each other. They felt they were not strong enough to see each other so constantly and resist it.

Did I want Walter's fealty, if given under such circumstances? Had I a right to hold him to his vows when in spirit he was breaking them? He came to the door and I asked him to excuse me, said I would not be able to join them at dinner.

"Let me come in and bathe your head, Doreen," he said.

"Please, Walter, just go away and let me lie still," I replied. "I shall be all right after a couple of hours of rest. I don't feel like getting up to unlock the door. Keep your mother away," I added.

"All right, dear, but if you'd have a cup of tea, it might help you."

Tea! That supposed panacea for woman's woes, even for her heart-breaks.

A Good Thing—DON'T MISS IT.

Send your name and address plainly written together with 5 cents (and this slip) to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial package containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchial, "flu" and whooping coughs, and tickling throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gassy pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles, and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it. adv

I buried my face in the pillow to keep from screaming the whole hateful truth at him—that I was an unloved wife, that I knew he loved Vashti Vernon. And he offered me TEA!

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

DEFEND OIL FIELDS

Britain's Position in Coun-
try Secure Declare Officials of Government

London, Jan. 30.—Foreign office officials today abandoned hope that Turkey will sign the Near East peace Treaty presented by the Allies at Lausanne. Great Britain is adopting a policy of "watchful waiting" prepared either for war or peace.

There is a powerful British fleet at anchor in the Turkish straits and the British are maintaining armies at such strategic points as Constantinople, Mosul and Chanak.

A gigantic British fortress has been erected at Shanak controlling traffic through the Dardanelles.

There is every indication that the British will defend the Mosul oil fields with troops if the Turks carry out their threats to occupy that region.

Foreign office and war office officials said that the British position in the Near East is perfectly secure. The British fleet and the forces in Constantinople with a few hours time could divide the Turkish armies in Anatolia and Thrace, driving them into the interior at their leisure.

BIG REDUCTION IN U. S. BUDGET DEFICIT SHOWN

Harding Announces Cut of
92 Million Dollars; Plans
Economy Drive

Washington, Jan. 30.—The anticipated deficit in the national budget for the current fiscal year, which ends July 1, has been reduced to $92,000,000 from an earlier estimate of $273,000,000. President Harding announced in a message to the fourth regular budget meeting, read by Vice President Coolidge. Reductions in expenditures and increased revenues combined to reduce the deficit, he said.

Congratulating the assembled cabinet officials and bureau chiefs for saving $181,000,000, Mr. Harding's message urged continuance of rigid economy in the hope that the $92,000,000 would be wiped out and the fiscal year ended with a balance on the right side of the ledger.

Estimates for the next fiscal year—ending June 30, 1924—indicate an excess of receipts over expenditures for the first time since this country entered the world war.

General Lord reported that the final estimate of expenditures for the current fiscal year, surveyed Jan. 15, was $3,574,554,132, while the forecast of receipts on the same day was $3,441,504,559. This leaves, he pointed out, a deficit slightly more than $92,000,000, and he expressed the belief that with five months of the fiscal year ahead in which to cut away less than one-fifth of the amount eliminated in the excess of expenditures in the first seven months of the 12 months period, the deficit could be eliminated. He declared, however, in this connection, that "the tireless, unrelenting efforts of the president to accomplish the result must have the support of every public servant."

General Lord reviewed the work of the various agencies subordinate to the budget bureau, showing how thousands of dollars were cut from estimates here and there, and millions, in some instances, were lopped off the original figures by those intent on making the nation pay as it goes.

WOMAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY TRAIN

Middletown, O., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Charles Van Horn, 30, was instantly killed while her husband escaped death by jumping from the Van Horn quick service truck which was struck on the Fourth street Big Four crossing at 7:30 Monday night by South-bound special freight 149, Louis Kaul, of Sharonville, Ohio, engineer.

The woman's head was crushed to pulp when she jumped directly in front of the engine.

WIFE BALKS AT SALE OF CHILDREN

Mrs. Joseph Assad & children

When Joseph Assad, of Cleveland, Ohio, was fined for being drunk he offered to sell any one of his five children to pay his fine and to clear up the accumulation of $2,000 worth of debts. All he asked was $200. When she heard of her husband's proposal, Mrs. Assad declared she would not part with one of her children "for a million." The family is in poor circumstances, and Assad has been compelled to close his small grocery store, their only means of

GERMAN OFFICIALS ARE DEPORTED BY FRENCH

Rioting Takes Place in Ruhr City But Denial is Made
That Twenty Germans Were Killed in
the Disturbance.

Essen, Jan. 30.—Large numbers of German officials today were ordered deported from the Rhineland by the French military authorities. The formal accusation against the Germans was disobedience, but the real reason for their expulsion was their obedience of orders from the Berlin government to give the French no assistance or information.

General DeGoutte issued the expulsion orders from his headquarters in Dusseldorf but it is understood here that the original suggestion came from the French general staff at Paris.

The French are annoyed and angered over the failure of their policy to produce material resources. Practically no coal is being obtained, disorders are growing, destruction of property is increasing and the passive resistance of German civilians becomes a bigger problem every day.

Additional French railway workers are arriving in the Ruhr. It is estimated that there are about 5,000 on the scene now but they are meeting with considerable resistance on the part of German railwaymen who refuse to co-operate with them.

The French have not yet attempted to "requisition" German labor.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The French foreign office this afternoon admitted that rioting had taken place in the German Rhineland city of Boppard, but denied a newspaper report that 20 Germans were killed. Foreign office officials said that advances from French headquarters in the Rhineland said there had not been any casualties in the Boppard disorders.

HARDING'S LETTER READ AT MEETING

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Harding, in a letter to Senator Pomerene, read at the annual meeting of the Ohio society of Washington in commemoration of the birth of President McKinley, expressed the regrets of himself and Mrs. Harding at being unable to attend.

"Please be assured," the president's letter said, "that we will be with you in spirit and hope that in every way the meeting will fully reflect the regard in which the memory of President McKinley is held and tend to enhance the appreciation of fellowship among those in Washington who have pride in claiming either nativity or citizenship in the great state of Ohio."

Among the speakers on the program were Chief Justice Taft and Senator Pomerene. A message was dispatched to William R. Day, also of Ohio, former associate justice of the supreme court and at present umpire of the American-German claims commission, who is at Augusta, Ga., recuperating from a bronchial attack, expressing hope in his early recovery.

WOMAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY TRAIN

Middletown, O., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Charles Van Horn, 30, was instantly killed while her husband escaped death by jumping from the Van Horn quick service truck which was struck on the Fourth street Big Four crossing at 7:30 Monday night by South-bound special freight 149, Louis Kaul, of Sharonville, Ohio, engineer.

The woman's head was crushed to pulp when she jumped directly in front of the engine.

FRAUD CHARGES GIVEN AIRING IN OHIO HOUSE

Legislative Committee Is
Probing Pike County
Election Case

Columbus, Jan. 30.—At the hearing of the contest to unseat Representative Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, and install Harry L. Foster, Republican, Wynn's opponent in the November election, schemes resorted to by opposing parties in conducting a political campaign in Pike county were given an airing before the house investigating committee.

After hearing testimony which tended to show the passing of money in obtaining absent votes and the systematic methods employed by at least one party in obtaining these votes, the committee adjourned to meet again Feb. 13, when effort will be made to review all records of the Pike county election board, particularly those relating to handling of applications for absent voters' ballots.

In two instances testimony showed money had been passed in connection with voting absent voters' ballots. Stanley Moss of Chillicothe testified three Waverly men, who came to his home and got him to vote an absent voter's ballot, gave him $5 "for his time," and also gave him $5 to give to his wife. The wife testified having signed some papers and that her husband gave her $5 after the three men had left. One of the men, both Mr. and Mrs. Moss testified, was "Hookie" Dowdle of Waverly. Mrs. Moss said she did not know she was voting when she signed the papers.

Charles P. Gableman, former probate judge of Pike county, and eight years postmaster of Waverly, testified as a member of the Democratic county executive committee he handled women's organizations and absent voters. Gableman said the Republican committee also was getting all the absent votes possible, but admitted that probably the Democrats were the most successful, as they were "better organized" for the purpose.

MAY CALL OUT TROOPS TO QUELL OUTBREAKS

Clinton, Indiana is Scene of Wild Riots and Officials
Admit Inability to Cope With Lawlessness—
Casualties Are Reported

Clinton, Ind., Jan. 30.—A warning from W. A. Satterlee, prosecuting attorney, that troops were needed today followed the third death in the rioting at Blanford, near here.

Simultaneously, Bert C. Morgan, Indiana federal prohibition enforcement officer, admitted that his staff was powerless to stop bootlegging in the town.

Mell Obravovich is dead. Steve Karanovich is in jail, charged with the killing as the result of another outbreak at a wedding at which illicit liquor is said to have played a prominent part. Two men were killed Sunday in another drunken riot.

The town, dubbed by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson the "worst town in the country" has been deserted by negroes driven out following an attack by a negro on an eleven-year-old white girl. A Grand Jury investigation will be made of the situation, the prosecutor said.

Threats have been reported from Terre Haute that a sortie would be made into Clinton County by a citizens committee bent on cleaning out the town should the authorities fail to break up the "booze ring."

POMERENE TO GET HIGH APPOINTMENT

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—Rumors current here today were to the effect that Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Canton, Ohio, is soon to be appointed to a position of "high trust and responsibility" by President Harding.

It is known Pomerene was seriously considered for a position as Supreme Court Justice, and friends say that since he did not receive that appointment he shortly will be given another, of slightly less importance.

Pomerene recently conferred with the president at the latter's request.

DAVIS TO FIGHT CODE REVISION.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Former Governor Harry L. Davis announces that he will fight any attempt to change the present system of organization in the state welfare department, such as is urged by Governor Donahey. The former governor, according to personal friends, expects to appear before such legislative committees as may have consideration of any bills proposing to carry out the Donahey recommendations, and to submit the figures which he avers prove the justification of the changes made under his reorganization code.

Is R. W. Boyden to Be Col. House No. 2?

Roland W. Boyden, Boston lawyer and financier, "the mystery man of two continents," acting as American "observer" on the Inter-Allied Reparations Commission, in Paris, has by his recent actions, caused many politicians in Washington to ask: "Is he Colonel House No. 2?"

TERROR GRIPS DUBLIN AFTER MUCH RIOTING

Rifle Fire, Bomb Explosions and Incendiary Fires
Are Reported

Dublin, Jan. 30.—Dublin emerged today from a wild night of terror, which was marked by blasts of rifle fire, bomb explosions and the lurid glare of incendiary fires against the sky.

Homes of many Free State officials and newspapermen were attacked. The home of State Solicitor Corrigan was blown up. Mrs. Corrigan and her children were ordered out first.

They stood in the street and watched their home go up in flames. The dwelling of a brother-in-law of William T. Cosgrave, president of the dail eireann was fired.

The home of Sir Horace Plunkett at Fox Rock was blown up. Sir Horace is now in the United States.

OUTCOME OF CABINET MEETING IN DOUBT AS OPPOSITION IS FELT

American Terms Held Too Severe by Bonar Law Element, Although Nation Assured That U. S. Will Not Accept Change

London, Jan. 30.—The British cabinet met today to consider the Anglo-American debt issue and listened to an appeal from Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin that the debt terms of the United States funding commission (providing for a three per cent interest rate) be accepted. Baldwin said that the government could rest assured no better terms could be obtained.

The outcome of the meeting was clouded with uncertainty due to the division of opinion among the ministers. The "die hards" declared that they would not consent to the American terms while Premier Bonar Law, was uncertain as to his own future course. He told his colleagues that he was entering the meeting with an open mind.

Bonar Law is known to hold the opinion that the American terms are "too severe" for England in her present financial difficulties but he is being told daily by other ministers, by bankers and by influential newspapers that the best course is to accept the terms because they are the best Britain can get.

Financiers are urging acceptance on the ground it will assist business. They fear that rejection will depress the value of the British pound. It was officially admitted at 10 Downing street that the differences of opinion in the cabinet were so sharply divided that there was little likelihood of a decision at this time.

It is possible that before a decision is reached, formal query will be sent to Washington to ascertain if the United States will consent to a reopening of debt funding operations if Great Britain accepts the present terms.

These terms call for a 3 per cent interest rate for 10 years with an increase of one half per cent subsequently and a sinking fund to be created by imposing one half of one percent by imposing one percent. The debt is about $4,500,000,000.

Before the cabinet met George Harvey, American ambassador, held a conference with Chancellor Baldwin. It was said that the Ambassador gave Mr. Baldwin assurances that the American terms now in the hands of the British were the best that could be obtained. He urged a quick decision, opposing the evident policy of Bonar Law to hold off for a while before making a decision.

It is understood that Mr. Baldwin explained to the American ambassador that he did not intend to make his interview offensive to American legislators at Washington, but was animated solely in a desire to be frank and to state his views in a way that could not be misinterpreted.

Baldwin is sending to Washington the text of the interview and believes that criticism of his frank statements was due to the fact that only fragments of the interview were cabled to American newspapers.

JAPANESE ISSUE OF IMMIGRATION CROPS UP AGAIN

Question Divides House Committee on Three Per Cent Law.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Japanese immigration, a tender subject between the United States and Japan for a score of years, has again cropped up to plague the diplomats of both countries, and today has divided the House immigration committee to a point where changes in the present three per cent law are being held up.

A majority of the committee favors writing into the law a provision excluding Japanese from admission into United States territory. This was to be accomplished indirectly by providing that only aliens eligible to citizenship should be admitted. The United States Supreme Court held in a recent decision that Japanese were not of the white race and were not eligible to citizenship under federal law.

Object To Provision
The state department objected to inclusion of this provision in the immigration law. It was feared it might bring to a head the simmering issue of Japanese and interfere with diplomatic negotiations to adjust the matter smoothly and without bitter feeling or animosity. The majority of the committee wants to go ahead despite the warnings of the state department diplomats, but are held back by the more cautious members.

Tentative agreement has been reached by the committee to reduce the immigration restriction to two per cent, and base quotas on the 1890 alien resident population instead of the 1910 census, as at present. In respect of the father, mother, husband, or wife, and minor children of naturalized citizens and aliens who have applied for naturalization, and a minimum quota of 400 for every country from which eligible aliens are entitled to come.

This change in the law, it is estimated, would permit of about the same total of immigrants as at present, about 360,000, but would give the larger quotas to the countries of northern Europe and would take care of new states created as a result of the recent war and of old states from which immigration has been light during the past thirty years.

MUSTARD-ORCHID ROMANCE IS OVER

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—The "wild mustard-orchid" romance of "Mrs. Margaret Matzenauer, Metropolitan grand opera star, and Floyd Glatzback, Grand chauffeur melted today when Superior Judge Murasky signed a decree of divorce. The divorce was granted the singer on her cross complaint. Neither principal was present.

Mrs. Matzenauer named a Carmel woman. She produced three cancelled checks which she said she had given her husband and which bore the endorsement of the Carmel woman. The decrees restores Mrs. Matzenauer's name.

AUSTRIAN CHAOS HOLDS NO PERIL OF RED REVOLT

London, Jan. 29.—Although the political and economic situation in Austria is desperate, there is little likelihood of the country being further demoralized by a Bolshevik revolt, in the opinion of Prince Joseph de Rohan, head of an ancient Austrian house, who was a recent visitor here from Vienna. The innate respect of Austrians for order, the Prince believes, will checkmate all attempts of Bolshevism to gain a foothold.

"The deplorable condition of Austria today," the Prince said, "shows no sign of an early improvement. The Government authorities seem to be wholly at a loss with regard to stabilizing the financial situation. Taxation, the rising cost of living, etc., are whirling upwards, generally with tragic but sometimes with comic effect."

"In Hungary the situation is better than in Austria, although there, also, money is all but valueless. Hungary is thoroughly loyal to the monarchial system and in course of time a king will be enthroned."

"With regard to the psychology of the Austrian people, it is quite safe to say that one sees no tendency to seek salvation in revolt. Bolshevism could never become established in Vienna, for the people are orderly and conservative. Nevertheless, the outlook is so bad that it is impossible to see how Austria can carry on."

"It is difficult to conceive how Austria can solve her economic problems without powerful co-operation from the outside."

"I believe in the future of the Austrian and Hungarian people, for they have the will to survive their present trials with fortitude. It seems that large populations which have been absorbed by neighboring States are by no means happy under their new rule, but of this I know nothing personally."

Prince de Rohan disclaimed the possibility of the reunion of Austria with Germany and declared his own disapproval of such an arrangement.

MINERS TO MEET.

Bridgeport, O., Jan. 30.—Annual state convention of Ohio's 45,000 union miners will be held Feb. 12. It was postponed due to trials of Belmont county miners in a strike riot.

Rapid Strides Are Made In Street Paving In 20 Years

Boosters of Xenia today are prone to call our fair city "The best paved city of its size in the state," dispute often arising as to whether it holds that distinction in the state or in the nation.

Judging from files of the Gazette of 1902, rapid strides have been made in the past twenty years to bear out that claim, items appearing in the old papers deriding the muddy condition of the leading streets of the city at that time.

Motorists who today call down curses on the heads of city officials, and property holders on some streets, where paving has not reached, should have traveled Detroit Street, Xenia's thoroughfare twenty years ago, and fallen into all the pitfalls that awaited pedestrians through mud and wintry slush.

A Gazette issue, dated January 28, 1902, contained the following item: "The bad condition of the Xenia streets has caused someone to post a placard on a telephone pole at the Citizen's Bank corner, reading 'Ferry boats leave for all points south every twenty minutes. Notice is given that South Side ferry passengers are not allowed on the boats without life preservers.'"

By order of the Captain."

At the City Council meeting the following night, a member of the street committee reported that "The boats have stopped running, it froze up," alluding to the Detroit Street mud canal. The item continues, "Someone inquired about broken stone to fix the street, and Mr. Logon said that Centerville would not answer his letter of inquiry and that Columbus cannot furnish broken stone at any price. The Street Commission had a word of consolation on the matter, saying that the Electric Light and Gas Company, which left South Detroit Street in bad condition in putting down mains, would pay for the expense of hauling of mud and gravel. The Street Commission being instructed to proceed with the work at the expense of the company. The mains were put down from Third Street to Chan McDaniel's grocery."

NEARLY THOUSAND FARMERS AT MEET

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Opening day of the 11th annual farmers week program at Ohio State University was marked by an attendance of 929 persons, compared with 1,530 last year. It was pointed out, however, that last year's figures included 300 agricultural students in the university who registered for the week. To prevent congestion of registrations, these students will not register until later this week, it was stated.

Today's program includes: Beef cattle judging; discussion on economic questions, led by Prof. F. N. Carver, Harvard University; discussion on China and Japan, led by Dean Vivian, College of Agriculture; discussion on the farmer and taxation, led by H. C. McKensie, Walton, N. Y.; discussion on co-operative purchasing, and meetings by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, the Ohio State Dairymen's Association and the Ohio State Horticultural Society.

Probably the cleverest and most enjoyable picture the club calendar of the Rotary Club, was presented at the regular meeting at the Club Tuesday noon. The program committee consisted of Frank McCurran, chairman, who presided at the meeting, Schuyler N. McClellan, and George P. Tiffany, the members being responsible for a program unique and highly appreciated.

Following the club dinner, the members were requested to go to an adjoining room of the club, and were ushered into the banquet room a few minutes later. The room had been darkened, and at one end of a miniature stage had been erected, with the bill of the show at each side of the curtain. The "show" consisted of the pictures of the club members, taken when they were of tender years, and furnished much amusement. The pictures were shown through the medium of a high-powered lens, each photograph having a verse of poetry accompanying it. Schuyler N. McClellan acted as "cameraman," George P. Tiffany reading each verse with the pictures.

The program committee for next week's meeting will consist of Judge R. L. Gowdy, James Wilson, Third, and Frank L. Smith. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting by Judge Gowdy, that the coming meeting would be an informal "get-together" for the purpose of discussing all Rotary Club affairs.

SCHOOLS OF CITY WILL NOT RE-OPEN UNTIL FEBRUARY 5

Superintendent C. A. Waltz, announced Tuesday, City School will not re-open until Monday February 5. The high school, all the grade schools and the night schools have all been closed on account of the epidemic. Professor Waltz, who has been one of the grip victims and has been confined to his home for the last week, was able to be up for a short time Tuesday but is not yet able to leave the house.

The situation is reported to be improving somewhat but the physicians of the city advise that the schools be kept closed until the first of next week.

RECEIVES SENTENCE IN STATE HOSPITAL CRIMINAL INSANE

William James, 56, colored, indicted for assault with an intent to rob by the January Grand Jury, was sentenced to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Lima Tuesday morning by Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall.

James, accompanied by Ralph Nickens, 20, colored, is said to have made an attack on Henry Watkins, at his home near Wilberforce, January 6, striking him with a rock in an attempt to rob the house. James and Nickens were arrested shortly afterward by Sheriff Sharp, Deputy Baughn and Patrolman Stephens. Both were indicted for assault with intent to rob, and Nickens was found guilty and sentenced to from one to 15 years in the Reformatory at Mansfield.

James came here from Cleveland. His guardian, who came here recently said James had been declared in need of institutional care by a physician some time ago. The Lima sentence is indeterminate.

HOW TO USE VICKS VAPO RUB FOR DEEP GRIPPY COLDS

First, It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of the Skin Around the Lungs.

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are not so virulent as the influenza cases during the first epidemic, tho they are worse than ordinary colds. For these cases the usual light application of Vicks is not sufficient.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or a counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This reddening or irritation of the skin causes a rush of blood to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stupes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds are all good.

How to Produce This Effect

Our experiments have shown that an ordinary mustard plaster is very effective. Use one part of mustard to two parts of flour or flaxseed meal for adults, and one to three parts for children under eight years. An even simpler method, particularly for adults, is to apply towels, wrung out in very hot water—as hot as the patient can stand. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated. For adults, a hot mustard foot-bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water—given at this stage of the treatment, will aid in drawing the blood from the congested parts.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on like you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts Like a Vapor Lamp

The advantage of applying Vicks thickly over the body is this: Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath.

A Pharmacist's Discovery.

Vicks VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina pharmacist. From the back room of a little drug store its use has grown until today literally tens of millions of families are never without the familiar blue jar. It is their standby for all forms of cold troubles and, in addition, is useful for the many minor ailments of the home. It is particularly a boon to mothers with small children, because it is externally applied.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

AUSTRIAN CHAOS HOLDS NO PERIL OF RED REVOLT

London, Jan. 29.—Although the political and economic situation in Austria is desperate, there is little likelihood of the country being further demoralized by a Bolshevik revolt, in the opinion of Prince Joseph de Rohan, head of an ancient Austrian house, who was a recent visitor here from Vienna. The innate respect of Austrians for order, the Prince believes, will checkmate all attempts of Bolshevism to gain a foothold.

"The deplorable condition of Austria today," the Prince said, "shows no sign of an early improvement. The Government authorities seem to be wholly at a loss with regard to stabilizing the financial situation. Taxation, the rising cost of living, etc., are whirling upwards, generally with tragic but sometimes with comic effect."

Better in Hungary
"In Hungary the situation is better than in Austria, although there, also, money is all but valueless. Hungary is thoroughly loyal to the monarchial system and in course of time a king will be enthroned."

"With regard to the psychology of the Austrian people, it is quite safe to say that one sees no tendency to seek salvation in revolt. Bolshevism could never become established in Vienna, for the people are orderly and conservative. Nevertheless, the outlook is so bad that it is impossible to see how Austria can carry on."

Need Outside Help.
"It is difficult to conceive how Austria can solve her economic problems without powerful co-operation from the outside."

"I believe in the future of the Austrian and Hungarian people, for they have the will to survive their present trials with fortitude. It seems that large populations which have been absorbed by neighboring States are by no means happy under their new rule, but of this I know nothing personally."

Prince de Rohan disclaimed the possibility of the reunion of Austrian with Germany and declared his own disapproval of such an arrangement.

Rapid Strides Are Made In Street Paving In 20 Years

Boosters of Xenia today are prone to call our fair city "The best paved city of its size in the state," dispute often arising as to whether it holds that distinction in the state or in the nation.

Judging from files of the Gazette of 1902, rapid strides have been made in the past twenty years to bear out that claim, items appearing in the old papers deriding the muddy condition of the leading streets of the city at that time.

Motorists who today call down curses on the heads of city officials, and property holders on some streets, where paving has not reached, should have traveled Detroit Street, Xenia's thoroughfare twenty years ago, and fallen into all the pitfalls that awaited pedestrians through mud and wintry slush.

A Gazette issue, dated January 28, 1902, contained the following item: "The bad condition of the Xenia streets has caused someone to post a placard on a telephone pole at the Citizen's Bank corner, reading 'Ferry boats leave for all points south every twenty minutes. Notice is given that South Side ferry passengers are not allowed on the boats without life preservers.'"

By order of the Captain."

At the City Council meeting the following night, a member of the street committee reported that "The boats have stopped running; it froze up," alluding to the Detroit Street mud canal. The item continues, "Someone inquired about broken stone to fix the street, and Mr. Logon said that Centerville would not answer his letter of inquiry and that Columbus cannot furnish broken stone at any price. The Street Commission had a word of consolation on the matter, saying that the Electric Light and Gas Company, which left South Detroit Street in bad condition in putting down mains, would pay for the expense of hauling of mud and gravel, the Street Commission being instructed to proceed with the work at the expense of the company. The mains were put down from Third Street to Chan McDaniel's grocery."

Probably the cleverest and most enjoyable program on the club calendar of the Xenia Rotary Club, was presented at the regular meeting at the Elks' Club Tuesday noon. The program committee consisted of Frank McCarran, chairman, who presided at the meeting, Schuyler N. McClellan, and George P. Tiffany, the members being responsible for a program unique and highly appreciated.

Following the club dinner, the members were requested to go to an adjoining room of the club, and were ushered into the banquet room a few minutes later. The room had been darkened, and at one end of a miniature stage had been erected, with the bill of the show at each side of the curtain. The "show" consisted of the pictures of the club members, taken when they were of tender years, and furnished much amusement. The pictures were shown through the medium of a high-powered lens, each photograph having a verse of poetry accompanying it. Schuyler N. McClellan acted as "cameraman," George P. Tiffany reading each verse with the pictures. The program committee for next week's meeting will consist of Judge R. L. Gowdy, James Wilson, Third, and Frank L. Smith. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting by Judge Gowdy, that the coming meeting would be an informal "get-together" for the purpose of discussing all Rotary Club affairs.

HOW TO USE VICKS VAPO RUB FOR DEEP GRIPPY COLDS

First, It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of the Skin Around the Lungs.

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are not so virulent as the influenza cases during the first epidemic, tho they are worse than ordinary colds. For these cases the usual light application of Vicks is not sufficient.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or a counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This reddening or irritation of the skin causes a rush of blood to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stapes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds are all good.

How to Produce This Effect

Our experiments have shown that an ordinary mustard plaster is very effective. Use one part of mustard to two parts of flour or flaxseed meal for adults, and one to three parts for children under eight years.

An even simpler method, particularly for adults, is to apply towels, wrung out in very hot water—as hot as the patient can stand. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened.

In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated. For adults, a hot mustard foot-bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water—given at this stage of the treatment, will aid in drawing the blood from the congested parts.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on like you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts Like a Vapor Lamp

The advantage of applying Vicks thickly over the body is this: Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM ARE TWO DIFFERENT THINGS.

To advise the abrogation or repeal of a good law, by a wise man in the United States, seems incomprehensible. And yet this has just been done. At the annual meeting of the Ohio State Bar Association, at Columbus, on Friday, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, declared in a speech that the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery, and the 18th Prohibition Amendment, should by common consent be abrogated.

No one will deny that Dr. Murray is a "wise" man. He is not only the President of one of our great higher educational institutions, with dozens of degrees of honor after his name, but he is an author of renown. Yes, he is a very "wise" man. And he was speaking before a great body of law makers when he told them there was nothing left to do, humiliating and degrading as it is, but by common consent to abrogate the Constitutional Amendments against Slavery and Liquor. Here are his own words:

"The moral sense, as well as the common sense of many persons, is affronted by a policy which will expend millions of dollars and use the methods of Czarist Russia and of the Spanish Inquisition to enforce one provision of law, while others of far greater significance and public importance are accorded conventional treatment, or less. No one who is familiar with the practical workings of our political system would expect either the fifteenth or the eighteenth amendment to be repealed within measurable time. So far as one can see, therefore, we are shut up to the alternative of their attempted enforcement by soldiers, and police and special agents, and detectives and spies, or to their abrogation over a great part of the land by local initiative and common consent. Either alternative is humiliating and degrading."

As we said, Dr. Butler is a very "wise" man. But wisdom is the right use of knowledge. To know, is not always wisdom. Many men know a great deal and are all the greater fools for it. There is no fool so great a fool as a knowing fool. But when you know how to use knowledge then you have wisdom. And wisdom is to the mind what health is to the body.

Yes, Mr. Butler is a "wise" man, but is horribly mistaken as to his diagnosis of public opinion in this country regarding slavery and prohibition. Slavery and the saloon have both gone forever, and though Dr. Butler and his Kith may rile against it their views are but idle words.

There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job. Three friends tried in vain to make him think black is white. Out of patience at last, he said to them in effect: "No doubt you fellows, Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar, think you are the people and that 'wisdom will die with you.'"

And there are others.

IS AMERICA TO BLAME FOR EUROPE'S TROUBLES?

Senator-elect Ralston, of Indiana, in a speech before the Cincinnati Democratic Duckworth Club, declared that the responsibility for French invasion of the Ruhr region rested upon the American Congress, because of its resistance to President Wilson's reparations policy in 1919.

It has become habitual with Democratic politicians to blame the United States for every evil thing that happens in Europe. Governor Ralston seems to have let his imagination play to the limit in his Cincinnati statement. It is evident that there was more partisanship than respect for the facts of history involved in his criticism.

The invasion of the Ruhr region is due to the age-old conflict between Germany and France and to the provisions of the Versailles treaty. The Congress elected by the American people in 1918 cannot rationally be held responsible. Congress had nothing to do with the framing of the treaty under which France claims the right to occupy German territory. For that stupid, vicious war-breeding pact President Wilson bears all the American responsibility. No other American was allowed to have a "look in" on the transactions behind closed doors at Paris as the result of which the treaty and league scheme were secretly hatched. Nothing but jaundiced partisanship could hold the Congress of 1919-20 responsible for the impossible terms of the Versailles treaty, betraying, with President Wilson's consent, practically every one of the Fourteen points by which the Germans claim they were seduced into an armistice before being fully defeated in the field as they inevitably would have been in a few weeks but for President Wilson's insistence on a negotiated peace.

US TERRIBLE YOUNG FOLKS.

"Never was there a time in the history of society showing such a want of discipline and so strong a tendency toward looseness as at present. It is seen, felt and read of at all times and in many places, building up a fearful influence of evils which, if not checked by banishing ignorance and pushing forward more earnestly the cause of education and religion, will demoralize the tender years of youth; crush out the virtue of polite society and the good old rules which rear the eager boy and blushing girl into years of discretion, modesty, culture and usefulness."

This is a pretty severe indictment of the young folks. Yes, But wait a minute. Was it written by some reformer for a daily paper published day before yesterday? Well, hardly. It was written for publication in the Galveston (Texas) News by Colonel J. H. Martin, of Corsicana, in the year—1874.

Let's see about that.

From 1874 to 1923 is 49 years. Supposing the condition of the young folks 49 years ago was as terrible as the Colonel says it was, by this time those terrible young folks are all grown up and we are them or they. And while modesty prevent the Editor from mentioning names, it seems within the bounds of possibility that some of us or of them have turned out fairly well even if we were in 1874 headed for the bow-wows. If you think over the folks who are grown up and whom you know as personal acquaintances—that group that were young folks in 1874—isn't it true that most of them are fairly decent and respectable citizens, good husbands and wives and most of them out of a jail or an asylum or a House of Correction? We don't want to be too egotistic or self-congratulatory about it, but if "us old folks" were as bad in 1874 as the Colonel then thought, it is to somebody's credit that inside of 49 years we managed to reform and turn over several leaves in the book of life.

As a matter of fact young folks in every generation have come in for severe criticism by their elders, who forget that their elders said the same thing about them. We have no doubt that 74 A. D. the young folks were as terrible as in 1874. There is some historical evidence that they were even worse. The good old times are still ahead of us.

WHAT GOOD WILL IT DO TO COUNT THE CALORIES AT THE DINNER TABLE

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Allen McClain has been in Cincinnati for several weeks past taking a course in the Clark Embalmers College, and went to Columbus a day or two ago and passed the examination. It is a little unusual that four generations should have been engaged as undertakers, as Allen's father, grandfather and great grandfather followed the business.

McCurran Brothers have been given the contract for the new addition to be made to the Xenia cordage mill on the Cincinnati pike by which the capacity of the mill will be doubled.

Although Xenia Masonic lodge was established in 1818, last night the presence of the Grand Master was the second time in its history that the lodge has been honored in this manner. Dr. W. G. Belt, of Kenton, the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio was present and gave an interesting talk.

The name of a Xenia boy, Charles Earl Smith, is on the list of graduates from Annapolis Normal Academy next Monday.

SOME INTERESTING LETTERS

Anxious—I am always so pleased to find somebody who wants red hair. Most people who have it want to get rid of it. Your hair is almost but not quite red, you say. Well, it is easy to increase its coppery tints. Use the ordinary henna shampoo, that is, make a shampoo powder from one ounce of powdered henna mixed with three ounces of powdered Castile soap. Put a heaping teaspoonful of this in a pint of very hot water and lather this thoroughly all over the head, rinsing well afterwards. Or you can use the extra henna shampoo. For this you wash and rinse the hair as usual, then you make a thin paste from powdered henna and hot water and cover the scalp and hair all over while it is hot. Let it stay on about five minutes and rinse out thoroughly. This will not alter the actual color of your hair but it will give it rich coppery tints.

M. E. B.—Many women with beautiful complexions use cleansing cream instead of soap. The advantage is that cleansing cream can be worked further into the skin than soap and consequently it will attack the hard black matter that goes deeply into the pores. On the other hand there is something valuable in the various ingredients of soap. I think the best way to cleanse the skin thoroughly is to massage it first with cleansing cream then wash it out with soap and water.

Alice May.—You are quite right to take care of your skin so that in after years it will still be beautiful. If you use a very little bit of good quality rouge, so lightly that it simply gives life to your skin and does not show it does not think it will do you any harm, especially if you remove the color at night.

Virginia.—If the hair is too oily a morbid condition of the scalp exists. Too much washing makes this condition worse, therefore the shampoo should take place once in three weeks, and between times a little powder or powdered orris should be used on the hair but not on the scalp.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm, Rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. Get it today and save all further distress.

The scalp itself must be treated with oil, odd as this may seem; the best way is to massage it thoroughly with hot olive or hot crude oil the night before the shampoo, your suggestion of kerosene is a good one, you can massage the scalp with it if you wish some hours before you shampoo. Crude oil, however, has less odour and is even more beneficial.

Cupid.—The ready prepared shampoo you have been using is very bad for your hair because like most of these preparations, it contains a great proportion of alcohol which dries the scalp. Use coconut oil soap or castile soap melted to a thin syrup with hot water. Send me a letter with a s. a. e. enclosed for my formula for an excellent hair tonic.

X. Y. Z.—See answer above. This hair tonic is also good for greying hair because it contains picrophenol which stimulates the colour cells of the hair.

Mildred.—Send me a letter with a s. a. e. enclosed for a cream that will make the eyelashes long and thick.

Waiting.—The harmless eyelash dye is:

1 dram peroxide of manganese
1 dram water
2 drams glycerine

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster

Perry.—Yes, you are right. At least, some scientists have set up the claim that it is possible for disease germs to be carried and deposited on the from other planets, on the tail of a comet.

Musician.—The first military band in England was heard in 1755. The Duke of York, son of George III, imported a band of twelve German musicians, with three negroes, and established them as the band of the Coldstream Guards. Other regiments then formed bands on similar lines. The negroes continued to form part of the bands until 1838.

E. E.—The Sperry gyro-stabilizer which, its inventor claims, will prevent a ship from rolling badly in a rough sea, is a solid metal device 13 ft. in diameter and 100 tons in weight capable of revolving 800 times a minute.

Motorist.—On the English boulevard, and also on the streets of many of the countries of Europe, the automobiles are kept to the left of the drive. This accounts for the right hand steering arrangement of practically all foreign-built automobiles.

SEVERE COUGH AFTER INFLUENZA

"After an attack of the 'Flu' which left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me until I used Foley's Honey and Tar," writes Mrs. K. D. Drake, Chids, Maryland. WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Caused by Troubles Women Often Have—Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Medina, New York.—"I had a great deal of trouble such as women often have, and this affected my nerves. For over two years I suffered this way, then I read in the 'Buffalo Times' about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have taken it with very good results. I am very much better and feel justified in praising the Vegetable Compound to my friends and neighbors who suffer from anything of the kind."—Mrs. Wm. H. Adkins, 311 Erin Road, Medina, N. Y.

Feels Like Girl Sixteen
Rochester, N. Y.—"After my twin girls were born I was all run-down. My neighbors thought I was going to die. I saw your advertisement in the paper and bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me and I kept on taking it. I only weighed ninety pounds when I began taking it, and I have gained in weight and feel like a girl of sixteen. I never can say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. NELLIE DOREY, 16 Skuse Park, Rochester, N. Y.

THE TWO AUNTS.

Aunt Bridget takes in washing, her work is hard and long, but she is joking, joshing, and springing chunks of song; Aunt Bridget is a dinger, a happy, cheerful singer; she plies her creaking wringer, and she is going strong. I pass her humble shanty, that smells of suds and soap, and say, "How is it, Auntie, you're full of joy and hope? So many folks are whining, so many are repining; your face is always shining—now hand me out the dope." She says, "I can't explain it, why I am always gay, and yet, I dare maintain it, the fantods keep away; if I had time for brooding I might find hope deluding, and grief would come intruding before the close of day. Throughout the day I'm busy in soapsuds and in foam, and then, in my tin Lizzie, I take the bundles home; I'm always on my mettle, I'm in the finest fettle, and sorrow doesn't settle upon my furrowed dome." Aunt Julia has a bundle that well might load a dray, and to the bank she'll trundle a package every day; but she is tired of gadding, of servants round her padding, and she is tired of adding the coin she's put away. She's tired of week-end parties and pink teas on the lawn, of entertaining smarties who bore her till they're gone; she's tired of fashion's ruling, of all the idle fooling, the gossip and the drooling; her face is sad and drawn.

GET A PROSPEROUS HEART

I am not any too expert at selecting prosperous people from the crowd, and yet I can sometimes make the selection.

The fact is that prosperity usually wears the same sort of clothes. Even a man's face dresses itself up under unusual success.

I have a friend who has an unusually prosperous heart.

I know this for this friend never seems to run out of wealth that is constantly giving away. Smiles (no tears), thoughtfulness, appreciation, generosity, tolerance, kindness, self-sacrifice—these neglected virtues make up that prosperous heart.

Love most, give much, forgive, forget, have no fear, relax, play, be positive in your thinking and in your decisions, remember that happiness is hidden right where you are and that to get it you have but to search for it, and your heart will take upon itself great prosperity.

What a wonderful experience to spend an entire evening with a prosperous heart!

Prosperity doesn't come all at once, however. You have to plant things, you have to loosen ground, and you have to be born with much patience and be ready for disaster if it should come.

Usually the most prosperous heart is that one which was once very poor, which had to go through great privations and disappointments and discouragements, until it got a little hold upon life—and then life seemed so good that it went right on having faith and believing until it became naturally prosperous.

A prosperous heart is happy anywhere and everywhere.

TRANS-OCEANIC RADIO PHONE IS FRUIT OF YEARS

New York, Jan. 29.—Tales of experiments extending over a score of years to determine the possibilities of trans-oceanic radiophone communication which culminated recently in the successful transmission of spoken messages from New York City to England were told by Gen. John J. Carty, vice president and chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in an interview granted to International News Service.

While Carty declared that there are still difficulties to be overcome before the "transatlantic telephone" would become a commercially accomplished fact, he appeared certain that this would ultimately be achieved.

"Somehow or another we are bound to have it," he said vehemently.

BETTER IN WINTER

"We have discovered through this series of experiments that talking 'gets through' better in winter than in summer, in daylight than in darkness and on some days than on others.

"When we know absolutely why these things are true, then we will be able to predict accurately the future of trans-oceanic radio."

The American Telephone and Telegraph has been conducting experiments in radio telephony for a score of years, Carty said, and has been working on the series of tests which resulted in communication with England in conjunction with the American Radio Corporation for some time prior to the experiment.

"We first met with success in our attempts in 1915," he said. "In that year we succeeded in getting through to France, where our messages were received by observers at the Eiffel Tower, in Paris.

"Later in the same year we were able to talk to Hawaii."

"Since then we have been continuing our research work, aided by the American Radio Corporation, and, with the vastly improved apparatus used, were able, of course, to get much better results.

NOT TUBE ALONE

Carty declared a popular impression that the success of the experiment was due solely to a new type of vacuum tube to be incorrect.

"It is a great deal more than that," he said. "The new tube is vital to success, to be sure, but the possibility of trans-oceanic communication really rests upon the use of a much improved transmitting device of which the tube is only a part."

TODAY'S RHINELAND DEVELOPMENTS

General DeGoutte, French commander in chief in the Rhine-Ruhr tightens the state of siege in to virtual martial law in the areas held by French and Belgians. The Ruhr basin is isolated by extension of railway, telegraph and telephone strikes.

Sabotage and disorders were reported from various quarters of the occupied zone, with violence spreading southward from Westphalia.

It was estimated that there are about 200,000 German workers idle through strikes and shutdowns. France has protested to Holland against the retention of German freight barges needed for coal, coke and iron shipments.

A Moscow dispatch received in Rome quoted Russian officials as saying Russia would not intervene with troops in Germany unless a bolshevik revolution broke out, in which event the Russian reds would help their German comrades.

Styles BY LENORE

Southern resort fashions usually indicate what the trend of spring styles will be, so it is safe to expect a season gay with striking colors of the new embroidered and printed fabrics that are now being exploited. They are wonderfully decorative these silks with their curious patterns and flamboyant colors. Whole gowns are made of them and they yield endless possibilities for smartness in combination with plain colors as in the gown illustrated. In this design the manner of combining the two materials, dark blue faille with red, blue and green embroidered crepe is skilful and distinctively original. The lines are unusual, but pleasing. Admirably suited to the slenderness of the typical American figure.

STYLES DON'T IRK BRITISH STATESMEN

London, January 29.—"Clothes don't make the man," runs the old adage, and as one looks over the British statesmen on the front benches of the House of Commons and the House of Lords, the old proverb seems to prove itself.

Just as the United States House of Representatives and Senate are a sartorial hodgepodge, so are the British legislative chambers. Lloyd George seems to dote on baggy trousers. There is something about his clothes that denotes force—force that almost breaks the buttons.

Law's Garb Varied

Bonar Law has a wide choice of wardrobe, but he doesn't seem to know where he is; for his clothes, though always neat, would never be copied by the "Burlington Bertie of Monocle Row." He has no choice in hats and, like Winston Churchill, has a wide variety, sometimes he wears a soft felt, sometimes a derby and frequently a silk hat.

Sir Robert Horne is a bachelor, and mayhap that is why he is the best dressed man in Commons. His clothes always fit, and he always wears the right thing. You would never catch Sir Robert wearing a derby hat with a dinner jacket.

Lord Birkenhead is one of those lucky persons who always look the picture of fashion, no matter what they wear. Lord Birkenhead can wear a tweed suit into the dining room of the Savoy Hotel and get away with it, or he can show up for a political conference in riding breeches and yet cause no clamor. He wears his clothes so well that he ought to be in the "movies."

Lord Salisbury has made the raglan overcoat popular. He is the best dressed member of that historic Cecil family and has a good bit of what the Britishers call "swank."

Fine Assortment.

Over on the Labor benches one sees a wide variety of habiliment. J. H. Thomas affects the small black tie that slips on over the collar button by a patent process. J. R. Clynes glories in pompadour hair and waved mustache, which detract attention from his clothes. Ben Tillett, the most valuable of all the Laborites, is reported to have been seen wearing white spats—no, not in his own constituency.

Lord Gladstone studies comfort, and apparently his idea of comfort is room.

The Earl of Balfour always appears neat, but he hardly has what might be called dash. He displays more neck than a debutante and must have to muffle up well these cold winter days. But he has been wearing those frank, open-faced collars that lie low on the shoulder blades for well over a century now.

Herbert Asquith wears his clothes as though under the direction of Margaret. There is no consistency about his dress. There are sartorial bright spots here and there in the British legislative chambers, but not enough to startle Beau Brummel.

WILL NOT CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY

Although Clinton County officials have not announced whether a special session of the Grand Jury will be called to consider the first degree murder charges against Louis Vandervoort, and Walter Bingham, who are held without bond on charges of slaying Emory McCleight of the Wilmington police department last February, it is rumored that the cases will not be given to the Grand Jury until the May session.

Prosecuting Attorney E. J. West conferred with Common Pleas Judge F. M. Clevenger of Clinton County Monday in regard to a special session. The result of the conference was not given out, and officials announce that the time of the Grand Jury hearing is still problematical. Rumors that are given credit in Wilmington, however, say that the jury will not be called in special session.

This means, if true, that the two youths will continue to occupy their cells in the Clinton County Jail without action until the May Grand Jury meets and the cases are presented to that body. It is said that officials believe more incriminating evidence against the accused youths may be dug up through the continued investigations of authorities in Greene, Clinton and Fayette Counties.

Both youths were bound over to the Grand Jury without bond by Squire W. I. Stewart in Wilmington last Saturday morning on affidavits charging them with first degree murder. Frank Moorman and Archie Glass of near Jamestown, held on charges of burglary and larceny for complicity with Vandervoort in one or more of a series of robberies he is said to have admitted perpetrating, were held under $1,000 bond. Moorman furnished bondmen Monday and was released. Glass is still in custody.

The possibility that a microscope found in the loot said to have been stolen by Vandervoort and confiscated by officers may have originally belonged to Wilmington College, was announced by Clinton County authorities, Tuesday. Vandervoort is said to have attended summer school at Wilmington College. After he had left the institution, it was learned that the microscope, said to be a valuable instrument, had disappeared, according to officials, Professor Boyd, of the College faculty, was expected to come to Jamestown Tuesday to attempt to identify the microscope being held by authorities there.

MRS. DRAKE EDINGTON DIES LATE MONDAY

Mrs. Elsie P. Drake Edington, 91, widow of Robert N. Edington, died at the home of Miss Jennie Moffit, on North Galloway Street, where she has resided, Monday afternoon at four o'clock. Death was the result of the infirmities of age. Mrs. Edington had been an invalid for the past three years. She sustained the fracture of her hip at that time, and for over two years was a patient at the McClellan Hospital, until removed to the Moffit home.

Mrs. Edington was born in Brown County, Ohio, February 10, 1833 and was united in marriage to Mr. Edington, in December 1853. Eight children were born to the union, five of whom preceded their mother in death. Three sons, R. P. Edington, of St. Louis, Mo.; Robert C. Edington, of Montana; and I. M. Edington, of Jamestown, survive.

Mrs. Edington was a member of the Christian Church at Pleasant Hill, Brown County, for about 60 years. She resided for several years at Jamestown.

The body was removed to the Nagley Funeral Home on East Market Street, where funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, of the Second United Presbyterian Church. The remains were taken to Winchester, Ohio, her former home for services and burial Wednesday.

MRS. ANNA E. CRANE SUCCUMBS TUESDAY

Mrs. Anna E. Crane, 62, wife of George Crane, died at her home on the Columbus pike, east of Xenia, near the East Point School, Tuesday morning at eight o'clock following a four weeks' illness.

She is survived by her step-father David S. Harner of the Fairground road, and the following half sisters and brothers: Mrs. T. C. James, of East Market Street, this city; Mrs. Walter N. Laurence, of the Union neighborhood, and Casper Harner, of near Xenia.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced later.

continues to mow down all opposition in systematic form.

The Dabcos leaders of the factory league in Dayton, are going to try to take a fall out of the Autos at the Central High Court Tuesday night, but unless they can show better form than the 'Bnon Triangles, the Middletown Miamis and the Wallace Collegians they are going to be far outdistanced.

The combination that George Haller has gotten together seems to be out there in front on the occasion of every session with the hoops and nets.

With such stars as Barlow, Mark, Koester, Koehly, Solimano and Solowitz, the Autos are represented by a sweet selection of court material. The Dabcos have been going at a great clip in their own circle and are leading their loop handily. Whether they are hitting off more than they can masticate thoroughly will be decided at the Central High court when these outfits mingle Tuesday night.

The night will be Ladies Night, and all fair fans will be admitted free. With the gym now heated more comfort is offered the bugs than in the past and the Autos are hoping for a good turn out.

Practically every Xenia home needs some new piece of furniture—many require complete new furnishings.

Dining Chairs $16.00

If the chairs in your dining set need replacing, consider those we offer now. A set of four in oak, leather seats, priced at $16.00. Sets of six, in combination walnut, dull finish, priced at $33.00. Many other notable values in dining chairs will be shown you.

Library Tables $23.50

In a very attractive design. One is here sketched. The top is of solid construction, and is made with one large center drawer. Is in the double pedestal style, with large substantial base and carved mounts. For its utility and decorative worth it is deserving of a place in the modern library. $23.50

Dining Suite of Priceless Worth $147.00
9 Pieces Complete, in Walnut ...

Such is the worth of this walnut dining suite that it is not amiss to say that once possessed, it will serve indefinitely. For each and every piece has been constructed with that one idea in mind. Suite is in the Queen Anne style. Includes the oblong table, buffet, cabinet, one arm chair and five straight chairs. Chair seats are slip style, covered in genuine leather.

Floor Lamps $19.75

Floor lamps are equally important in this worth while selling. Priced complete with harmonious shades, polychrome sticks and silk draw cords. They're made to grace the finest of homes—priced now at $19.75.

Roomy Duofold $42.00

A good sized duofold, upholstered in leather is a very good value, priced at $42.00. Frame is in solid oak, golden finish. Upon any occasion can be opened to a roomy and comfortable bed. Springs used in construction are the best to be had. Ask to see this model demonstrated.

3 Piece Walnut Bedroom Set $98.00

A bedroom suite of irresistible beauty, three pieces comprising the bow end bed, chiffonette and full vanity dressing table, priced at $98.00, will tend to give you some tangible idea of our present bedroom values. In this suite the casework throughout is superb, which is reflected at first sight. The pieces are fashioned in a turned design which is distinctly appealing. Suite is finished in a warm shade of walnut. Chair, bench and rocker, with cane seats may be had at a cost of $21.00.

Brass Bed like cut $27.00

Dotted Swiss Curtains $2.25

The ruffled window hangings add that finishing decorative touch to the room as a whole. They are straight hanging, no tie-backs being used. Priced $2.25 the pair.

Leather Rocker $10.95

The staunchness of construction in this rocker makes for a most unusual value. Frame is of oak, seat has tempered spiral springs. Covering over all is in a genuine Spanish leather. Priced now, at $10.95.

3 Piece Daveno Suite in Cane and Velour $159.00

From our living room section we take as an example offering a three piece daveno suite, and quite remarkable it is. Consists of a long daveno, arm chair and rocker. Sides and backs are of woven cane, while front panel runner and seats are covered in tapestry. Of marked importance is the fact that the davenport opens to a full-sized bed, bedding with-drawn from an out-of-sight inner compartment. This suite really affords the utility of two. Frame is finished in mahogany.

Vanity Dressing Table $49.00

If you have wanted a full vanity dressing table for your bedroom, as no doubt you have, better see these now offered at $49.00. They represent all that is to be desired in one. Large mirrors, roomy drawers, in neat period styles. Semi Vanity Dresse as low as $39.00

Davenport Single $75.00

These davenports were specially made as extras. And they combine all the requisites to superlative furniture. Spring construction, loose Marshall spring seats. Frame is solid, finished in mahogany. Covered in velour.

BASKETBALL

LEGION FIVE DEFEATS DEFENDERS 10 TO 7

FAMOUS AUTOS TO MINGLE WITH DABOOS TUESDAY NIGHT

CAESARCREEK HIGH TAKES DOUBLE-HEADER

XENIA WALLOPS DEFENDERS

The New York Defenders basketball team went down to defeat at the hands of the Xenia John Roan Post five here Monday night by the score of 10 to 7, in one of the most exciting games ever played at the Rink. The game marked the second defeat handed the New York five by the locals this season. So close was the guarding of Spears and Jones that the visitors were forced to take long shots at the basket seldom getting in the open anywhere near the net.

So! Butler started the scoring early in the fracas with a free throw but several minutes later Anderson came through with a neat ringer from beneath the basket and Winters duplicated the feat with a long one from the center of the floor. With the score standing 4 to 1 with the locals in the lead the visitors were not to be denied and Rhone and Huggins both turned in long shots from mid floor that put the visitors out in front. In the closing minutes of the first half Duff dribbled through the entire New York team and threw a fielder which gave the Xenia bunch a one point lead, the half ending with the score standing 6 to 5.

The second half was a repetition of the first. The Defenders fought hard to stop the ex-Soldiers but their best efforts fell short. The all around play of both teams was pretty to watch. Duff started things going in this period with a nice shot from under the basket. The two teams then battled hard for at least ten minutes when Winters came through with a fielder. So! Butler repeated it for New York and the scoring was over. The visitors fought hard at this stage and were making desperate efforts to cage one but the defense of the Xenia bunch was just a little too tight for them.

The game was clean only five fouls being called during the pastime by Referee Rachford, who handled the game in first class fashion. Winters was high man in the scoring with two fielders while Duff also made two, J. Anderson at forward, Spears and Jones at the guards also played well while Winters and Duff played their usual brand of high class ball. Butler,

Rhone and Huggins starred for the visitors.

Lineup and summary:
Xenia—10 New York—7
J. Anderson R. F. Hill
Winters (c) L. F. Z. Anderson
Duff C. Butler (c)
Spears R. G. Huggins
Jones L. G. Rhone
Scoring: Xenia—J. Anderson 1, Winters 2, Duff 2, Poulos: Winters 0 out of four, New York—Butler 1, Huggins 1, Rhone 1, Poulos Butler 1 out of 3. Referee: L. Rachford.

On next Monday night the local team will meet the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. five on the Rink Court the game to start at 8:30 p. m.

DEMANDS DAMAGES TO SUM OF $5,000 FOR ALLEGED SLANDER

Alleging that he has been slandered and damaged in reputation to the extent of $5,000, Oscar S. Hull, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against L. E. John, East Main Street billiard hall operator, asking damages in that sum.

Hull alleges in his petition that he was formerly employed as a clerk in the defendant's billiard hall, and that he was discharged January 5, 1923. He alleges that the defendant told Ralph Compton, George Bortoff, Ralph Stark, Marion Reeves, Herman Pemberton, Grant Cultice and Frank Cultice that Hull was a crook and a thief and that the home Hull is building was being paid out of the money he stole from the defendant.

Hull maintains in his petition that these statements are false, slanderous and untrue and that he has been damaged in reputation in the amount asked. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

Sues On Account

Harriet Schweibold, as executrix of the estate of Ed. Schweibold, deceased, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Charles Kline and Harry Lewis, for $500 alleged due as balance of account of work done prior to May 16, 1922. The plaintiff asks the amount with interest from August 12, 1922. Miller and Finney represent the plaintiff.

Claims Account Due

Alleging he purchased an account from L. E. Oster for $172.15 alleged due from Oster for work done between November 6, 1920 and March 28, 1921, Lincoln Funderburgh has brought suit in Common Pleas Court to recover judgment in that amount. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

Account Is Overdue

Hall E. Dickman wants a judgment in the sum of $188 on account with interest from April 17, 1922, from Charles C. Kinney, according to his petition filed in Common Pleas Court. Charles L. Fogle is attorney for the plaintiff.

Says Times Not Paid For

The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company is plaintiff in an action in Common Pleas Court against David Harrison, doing business as the Harrison Battery and Tire Shop for $288.29 alleged due on account and bearing six per cent interest from August 22, 1922. Harry D. Smith is attorney for the plaintiff.

Partition Is Sought

Doris Russell seeks partition of estate in her petition filed with Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam naming as defendants, W. L. Copsey, Irma Copsey, a minor of the age of 17 years, Orlo Copsey, a minor of the age of 14 years, Archie Copsey, a minor of the age of eight years, Norma Copsey, a minor of the age of five years and The Home Building and Savings Company and Veda Younce. The plaintiff claims she and the defendants are entitled to one-sixth of the estate of Louise H. Copsey, who died intestate in January, 1919, leaving property including 25 acres of land on which the building and loan association claims a mortgage lien. Miller and Finney represent the plaintiff.

PHILIPPINE LAW MAY REGULATE QUEER RECORDS

Manila, Jan. 29.—That the so-called "Chinese Bookkeeping" law which compels all merchants to keep their accounts in English, Spanish, or the prevailing dialect, ought to be abolished is said to be the conclusion reached here by Assistant Secretary of Commerce, Huston when he visited the Philippines recently.

The law is thus designated because it affects, principally, approximately 20,000 Chinese merchants who do 85 per cent of the retail business in the islands, besides having a hand in export and the wholesale distribution trade.

In spite of this and the opposition of the Chinese, it is expected the law will remain effective. It is designed to expedite periodical governmental examination for purposes of collecting internal revenues and taxes.

Recently a Chinese multi-millionaire died here. He was absolutely illiterate, even in his own language. When he came to Manila he was a water carrier, and when he had saved up 25 pesos he borrowed 100 more and started trading. Soon he had 5,000 pesos; from this foundation his fortune began. A portion of his profits was invested in downtown real estate.

Bills were paid in cash—as much as 100,000 pesos at a time. Toward the end of his career he was prevailed upon to patronize a bank. When told that the bank would not open an account for less than 25,000 pesos he smiled and called a Chinese "cargador," or porter. Into this man's two huge baskets the old Chinese merchant emptied a portion of his valued treasure—bales of money of $5,000 each—and merchant and porter went to the bank.

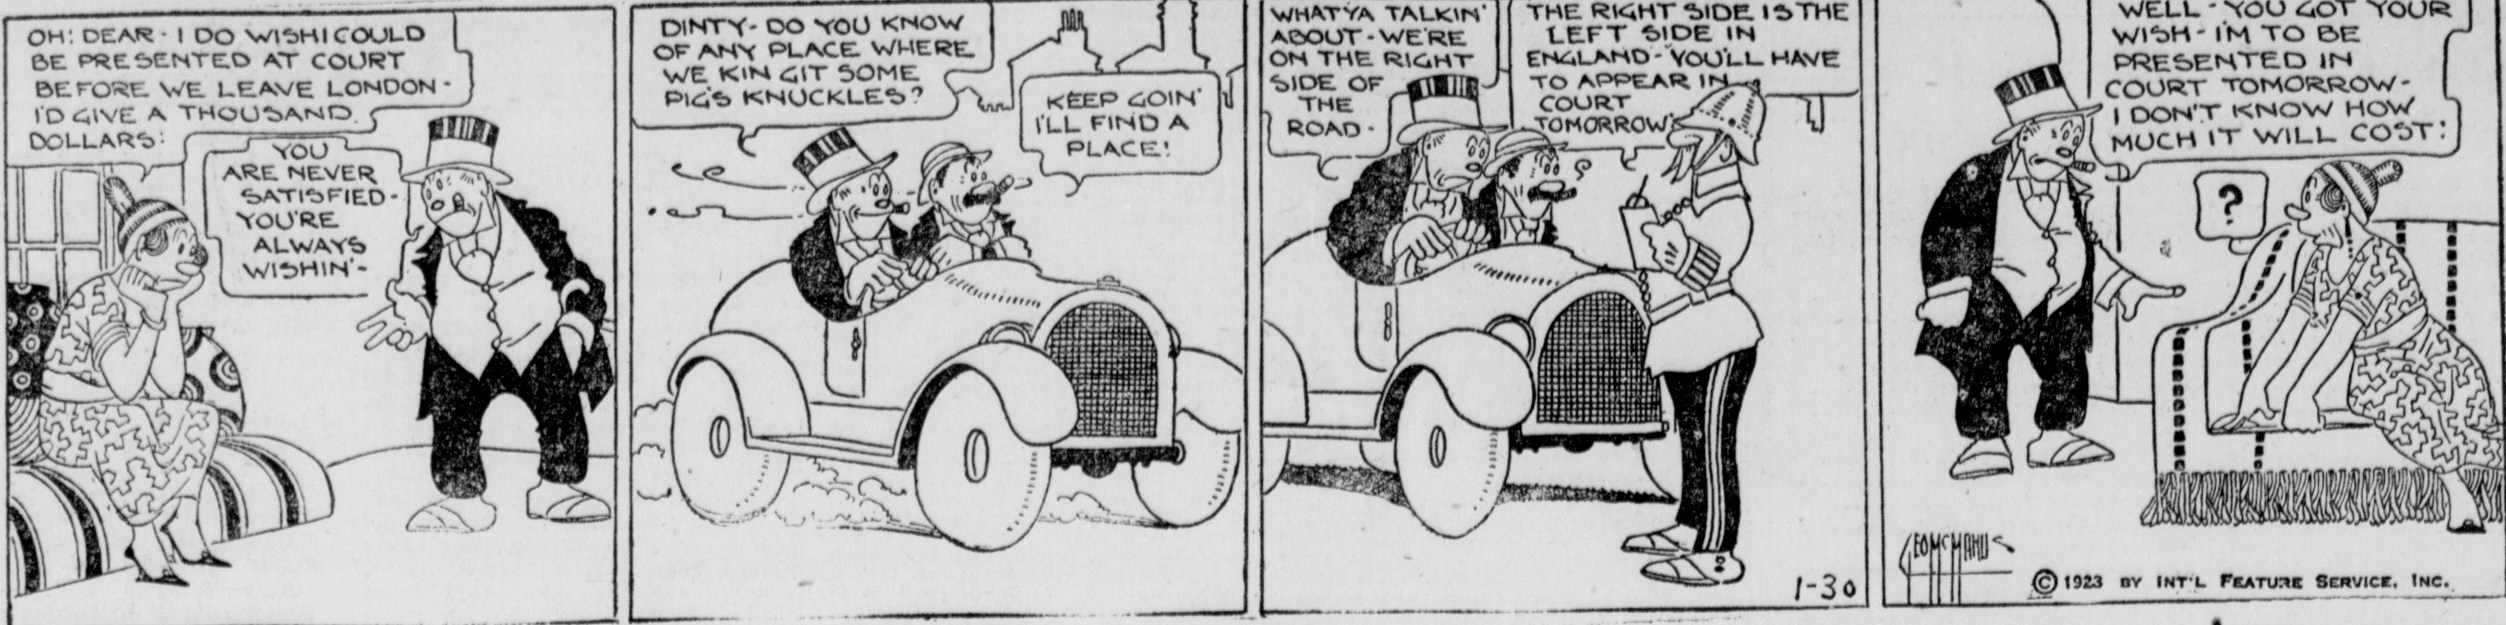

The money poured over the counter. It totaled more than a quarter of a million in gold! The banker was taken quite off his feet. The old Chinese rubbed his hands and laughed uproariously—for the Chinese have a keen sense of humor.

"Why, I—, if you cannot read, and write, how is it you are able to avoid losses in your business and how do you know how you stand in your accounts?" he was asked.

His shrewd eyes sparkled as he replied, in crude Spanish.

"Well, I myself am the buyer. I myself am the seller, I myself am the cashier, I myself am the collector and I myself am the owner. How can the money get away? It cannot!

BYRON

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kendig entertained a number of friends to an oyster supper, Thursday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linbaugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Harner and family, Mr. Ben Ashbaugh and family.

A new daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Augusta Ashbaugh Wednesday evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Ella Maxton was held at the late residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Byron Cemetery.

Mrs. Bell, the teacher of Byron school, has been quite ill for several days. Miss Miriam Harner has been teaching in her place.

The Byron Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Esther Carlyle, Thursday, Feb. 1.

The condition of Mr. Charles Watts who has been quite ill of pneumonia remains unchanged.

POLICEMAN SHOT; PRISONER ESCAPES.

Steuensville, O., Jan. 27.—Police are searching for a man giving the name of Vincenzo Campagna of Pittsburgh, charged with shooting and probably fatally wounding William Snyder, night patrolman at Mingo Junction, near here, in a successful escape. Snyder and another officer had arrested Campagna, who, it is charged, had a suitcase full of liquor, at Mingo Junction. While walking towards the jail he escaped from the officers, drew a revolver, shot Snyder through the abdomen and escaped.

TWO FLIERS INJURED.

Marlette, O., Jan. 27.—Bee Vincent, 38, of Beverly, is in a local hospital suffering from probable internal injuries and his brother Guy, 25, was badly bruised, when an airplane in which they were flying crashed to earth a mile east of here. Dropping from a height of 200 feet, the plane swooped into a wagon load of fodder.

Coleen: "For goodness sake, will you please tell me how hotels and restaurants make the lettuce in their salads stay in cup shape? I have tried and tried to make my lettuce at home do this, but I think there must be some particular way to hold the mouth, or some magic words to repeat, before one can achieve this effect."

Answer: I know that the note of exasperation in your letter must have sprung from many bouts with unruly salad-leaves! But there is no magic about it—just a little trick. Hotel chefs make the salad cup-shape by cutting a slit crosswise at the end of one large leaf and inserting the point of another large leaf into this slit. Sometimes the end which goes through the slit must be cut pointed with a scissors. This little trick results in holding the leaves together closely, so that they cannot separate when you fill the center, between them, with fruit, vegetables, etc. Several leaves may be locked together by this method instead of only two, if desired. If you are interested in dainty salads, do not fail to read my column tomorrow.

New Reader: "Why do my loaf cakes rise up in the middle and crack?"

Answer: Either your oven is too hot, or the cake-mixture too thick. M. M.: "How is salad oil made?"

Answer: Combine two parts cooking oil and one part olive oil.

Inquirer: "Is there any way of making ordinary bread flour more like pastry flour?"

Answer: Yes, and many housewives do it. Pastry flour contains a large percentage of starch and a smaller percentage of gluten than bread flour, and therefore makes more tender pastry than the bread flour. But if you do not wish to use pastry flour in making pies, you can make the bread flour almost like it by adding two level tablespoons of

OHIO REPRESENTED IN STATE OF FLORIDA

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 30.—(Special)—Ohio is represented in Florida this winter by approximately 20,000 tourists and of that number 8,500 are sojourning here in the "Sun, shine City," with each day adding newcomers to the Buckeye colony.

Xenia is represented by several, including Mrs. J. A. Baldwin, of 237 West Second Street, Xenia, who has returned for her tenth winter season and is residing at 527 First Avenue north.

Ohioans are preparing for the "Festival of States," celebration to be held here in March. Several floats will represent the Present state in the parade marking the opening of the gala event. The Ohio society is having a large float made and the Xenia people have voted to participate.

DRY SLEUTHS ARRESTED.

Bridgeport, O., Jan. 27.—William Nash and William Jenkins, said to be dry sleuths from Nelsonville, were arrested on a charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor to James Smith of Bellaire. They were released on $500 bond. Smith charged that the two men tried to buy whisky at his poolroom in Bellaire. Unable to obtain any, he said, they passed a bottle and told Smith he might keep the remainder. Later the place was raided by other officers. Smith, claiming he had been framed, caused the arrest of Nash and Jenkins.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

DOREEN REMAINS IN HER ROOM

Doreen Page, in love with her artist husband, Walter, is inclined to be jealous of his models. One of the latter, Helen Ralston, was killed in a hold up while trying to protect Page. Mrs. Page, Walter's mother, after her grandson is born, goes to live with her son and daughter-in-law, Doreen and Walter take a trip South. While away they meet Vashti Vernon, a beautiful brunette type who goes to New York to sit for her portrait at Walter's request.

Miss Vernon gives Doreen a new cause for anxiety when the monthly bills come in, for she discovers that Walter has been sending Vashti many flowers. They have also been to the opera together.

Another day she enters the studio and overhears what she considers a compromising remark passed between her husband and Vashti. Without letting the couple know they have been overheard, Doreen returns home greatly wrought up.

CHAPTER 31

Everything that had happened before seemed to sink into insignificance.

It was worse than my fears. The beautiful society girl had won Walter from me—or he had been unable to resist her loveliness, combined with all the other qualities he admired. I never had deceived myself a moment about Miss Vernon, never doubted her cleverness.

As I lay prone on the bed, I felt strangely numb, as though the end of everything had arrived for me. Over and over I heard her saying: "We aren't either of us strong enough. No, don't ask me to sit again."

Such words could have but one meaning. That Walter had called her "dear" too was an added sting. That with him, as with many, the word was often applied indiscriminately, meaninglessly migrated the feeling not at all.

Applied to Vashti Vernon it seemed to mean all an enduring word is meant to mean.

"What shall I do?" I asked. "I must do something. I can't go on as if I knew nothing, as I did not know."

For years I had hidden my hurts, my real sufferings, because of my sure faith in Walter's real goodness, his love for me and his boy. But there comes a time when no matter how hard a woman tries, she can conceal her jealousy no longer. I was sure that time had come to me.

I had suffered because of Helen Ralston, had been jealous and hurt because of others; but never had I really thought in my heart that Walter would be willing to give me up, or that he wanted to be, faithless. That belief had given me courage to go on, to keep silent, to hide my jealousy, my hurt.

Now that feeling, at least a great part of it, was swept away. I still believed him faithful, but I also believed he WANTED to be free—free to give expression to his love for this girl, who was free. They were fighting the love they felt for each other. They felt they were not strong enough to see each other so constantly and resist it.

Did I want Walter's fealty, if given under such circumstances? Had I a right to hold him to his vows when in spirit he was breaking them?

He came to the door and I asked him to excuse me, said I would not be able to join them at dinner.

"Let me come in and bathe your head, Doreen," he said.

"Please, Walter, just go away and let me lie still," I replied. "I shall be all right after a couple hours of rest. I don't feel like getting up to unlock the door. Keep your mother away," I added.

"All right, dear, but if you'd have a cup of tea, it might help you."

Tea! That supposed panacea for woman's woes, even for her heart-breaks.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.
